For this eighth interim response, the HHS Office of the Secretary has processed 865 pages of potentially responsive records captured in the agency’s search of Maggie Wynne’s records. After performing a careful review of those records, I have determined that 20 pages should be sent for consultation to other government agencies to review their equities and return to this office for final response to you. The disposition of the remaining records is as follows:

- 128 pages are being released in full;
- 291 pages are being fully withheld, pursuant to Exemption (b)(5);²
- 146 pages are being released with redactions, which were made pursuant to Exemptions (b)(5), and (b)(6) of the FOIA, and;³
- 280 pages are being referred to the Department of Justice for direct response.

The contact information for the Department of Justice FOIA office is below:

FOIA exemption (b)(5) protects inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency. This exemption protects documents that would be covered by any privilege an agency could assert in a civil proceeding. These privileges include, among others, the deliberative process privilege, the attorney-client privilege, and the attorney work-product privilege.

Request No. 2018-00042-C-OS
Equity Forward v. HHS, Civil No. 18-0241 (D.D.C.)

FOIA exemption (b)(6) permits a Federal agency to withhold information and records about individuals in "personnel and medical files and similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy." The definition of "similar files" has historically been broadly interpreted to include a wide variety of files, and the United States Supreme Court has held that Congress intended the term "similar files" to be interpreted broadly, rather than narrowly. I have analyzed these records and find they meet the threshold requirement of this exemption. Additionally, I have reviewed and weighed the public interest in disclosure of this information against the privacy interest in nondisclosure, and found that the privacy interest outweighs the public's interest in disclosure.

We will continue to review the remaining records as efficiently and expeditiously as possible, consistent with our available resources and the Order of the Court. Should you have questions or concerns regarding the Department's response and/or the processing of your request, any such issues should be communicated to your legal counsel and Department of Justice Attorney representing the Department in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Michael S. Marquis

Same-sex relationships: updates to healthyMarriage and RelationshipEducation programming (SuhMRE)

OPRE awarded a contract to the Urban Institute (subcontractors are Public Strategies and the Williams Institute) to provide an assessment of the current state of the HMRE practice field and to identify and promote promising approaches for serving same-sex couples and LGB individuals—whether adult or youth— who may become involved in same-sex relationships. Trump administration halts abortion for undocumented pregnant teen in Brownsville

The Trump administration stopped an undocumented pregnant teen in a refugee shelter in Brownsville, Texas, from getting an abortion even though she had already procured the needed money and permission from a judge to push through with it without parental consent.

Appeals court weighs undocumented teen abortion case (featuring ACF)

A legal battle between the Trump administration and a 17-year-old immigration detainee in Texas forced a federal appeals court in Washington to do something Friday it rarely does: wrestle with a complex case about abortion rights. However, at least one of the three judges on the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals panel, Brett Kavanaugh, made clear throughout the unusual oral argument session Friday that he's eager to dispose of the case without making any precedent-setting rulings.

A Washington appeals court is blocking for now an abortion sought by a 17-year-old being held in a Texas facility for unaccompanied immigrant children. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ruled Friday that the government should have until the evening of Oct. 31 to release the teenager to an adult sponsor. If released to a sponsor, the teen could obtain the procedure.

The Trump administration has fought in court to prevent a 17-year-old held in a Texas facility for unaccompanied immigrant children from having an abortion. In a case that's stirring strong emotions on both sides of the abortion debate, a federal appeals court ruled Friday that the government could have until Oct. 31 to find a sponsor to whom it could release the teenager so that she can elect to have the abortion on her own.

Appeals court delays abortion for undocumented teen; gives government time to find her a sponsor (featuring ACF)

A D.C. appeals court panel has declined to order the federal government to immediately allow an abortion for an undocumented teenager it is detaining, instead giving the Department of Health and Human Services 11 days to find a sponsor to take custody of the girl. The court's 2-1 decision allows the Trump administration to maintain its policy of not facilitating abortions for the undocumented minors in its custody. It also further delays the 17-year-old's quest to end her pregnancy, and increases the risk that she will run out of time to have the procedure.

Appeals court gives feds 11 days to find sponsor for illegal minor seeking abortion

A federal appeals court has given the Trump administration a deadline to find a sponsor to help an illegal immigrant girl get an abortion, or else face the prospect of having to facilitate the abortion using taxpayer money, in a case that has become a major test of hot-button issues. The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ruled late Friday that the government has until Halloween to find an acceptable sponsor to take the girl, an illegal Mexican immigrant who is part of the surge of unaccompanied alien children who have arrived in the U.S. in the past five years.

The fight over whether the government must facilitate an illegal immigrant girl obtaining an abortion has exploded into a full-blown legal battle over the future and limits of Roe v. Wade, according to pro-life and pro-choice groups anxiously awaiting a ruling. A federal appeals court in D.C. heard oral argument on the case Friday and the judges are rushing to rule, with the girl's advocates saying she's 15 weeks pregnant and needs to have the abortion now or else she'll run into later-term restrictions that would make the procedure complicated.

DC Circuit blocks undocumented teen from getting abortion, for now (featuring ACF)

The D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Friday that the Trump administration can continue to block an undocumented teen in federal custody from having an abortion. The court said the Department of Health and Human Services has until 5 p.m. on Oct. 31 to find a sponsor for the 17-year-old girl, known in court documents only as Jane Doe.

Court wrestles with undocumented teen's abortion request (featuring ACF)

The D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals on Friday appeared unconvinced Friday the government can block an undocumented 17-year-old girl who is in federal custody from getting an abortion. The government argues the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) can choose not to “facilitate” the teen’s access to an abortion. But Judge Brett Kavanaugh, a George W. Bush appointee, asked if women in federal prison, under Supreme Court precedent, have the right to obtain an abortion. Department of Justice Attorney Catherine Dorsey said they do have the right because women in prison have no way other way to obtain one. But the immigrant teen is different, Dorsey said, because she has the right to voluntarily leave the United States. But Kavanaugh responded that, by Dorsey’s own definition, the government would be facilitating the abortion of prisoners.

Court blocks undocumented teen's abortion — for now (featuring ACF)

A federal appeals court sought a compromise solution Friday in a dispute between a 17-year-old undocumented teenager who wants an abortion and a federal agency that doesn't want to help her get it. A three-judge panel that includes two Republican appointees gave the Trump administration until Oct. 31 to find a sponsor for the girl, who crossed from Mexico to Texas last month and is 15 weeks pregnant. That would facilitate the abortion without involving the Department of Health and Human Services.

DC Circuit's dubious compromise won't guarantee undocumented minor's abortion rights (featuring ACF)

On Friday afternoon, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit granted an undocumented minor in federal custody conditional access to abortion—within the next few weeks. The decision marks a compromise by two conservative judges keen to preserve their anti-abortion bona fides without transgressing Supreme Court precedent, which clearly protects the minor’s right to terminate her pregnancy. This ruling will force the minor at the heart of this case, who is referred to as Jane Doe, to continue her unwanted pregnancy for at least 11 more days.

In an ongoing case to determine whether an illegal immigrant teenager can receive an abortion in the U.S., a federal appeals court heard oral arguments Friday. “The government is causing her irreparable harm” by forcing her to remain pregnant against her will, plaintiff attorney Rochelle Garza said during oral arguments. The defense attorney responded by saying the U.S.

DC Circuit declines to allow pregnant undocumented teen to get abortion, for now*(featuring ACF)*

In a 2-1 ruling Friday, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit refused to require the government to allow a detained undocumented 17-year-old to get an abortion. In a two-page order, the court gave the Department of Health & Human Services until 5 p.m. on Oct. 31 to find a sponsor for the girl, at which point she would be free to leave the government's custody and get an abortion. The court also vacated sections of the lower court's temporary restraining order, issued Wednesday, that forced the government to allow Doe to be transported to an abortion facility. The appeals court remanded the case to the district court and said that should HHS not be able to secure a sponsor, the order said the lower court could re-enter its temporary restraining order, and the government could then appeal again.

US appeals court delays abortion for undocumented, unaccompanied minor under federal custody (featuring ACF)

A federal appeals court has temporarily blocked an undocumented, unaccompanied minor -- who is under U.S. custody -- from obtaining the abortion she is seeking. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia today ruled that the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), which is supervising the detention of the 17-year-old, has until Oct. 31, 2017 at 5:00 p.m. to secure a sponsor for the teen, which would allow for her release.

A federal appeals court in Washington has blocked an immigrant teen held in Texas facility from obtaining an abortion for the time being. The court had wrestled Friday with whether the Trump administration must permit an abortion being sought by a pregnant 17-year-old who is being held in a Texas facility for unaccompanied immigrant children. A three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia heard arguments lasting over an hour in the case.

Divided federal appeals court delayed final resolution of the case of a 17-year-old pregnant migrant in federal detention who is seeking an abortion, giving the Trump administration until the end of this month to find a private sponsor who can house her and will allow her to obtain the procedure. The 90-minute hearing for Garza v. Hargan, as the case is known, was in every which way a judicial spectacle unlike any in recent D.C. Circuit history. The session, which is worth listening to in full, was a microcosm of all the constitutional clashes one might expect the Trump administration to jump into: immigration law and the personhood of undocumented immigrants; the plight of unaccompanied minors; the future of *Roe v. Under the Trump administration, the federal government no longer wants to be complicit in abortions performed on under-age teens who enter the country illegally. And again, it was clear the government's lawyers saw nothing strange about in effect arguing it had the right to imprison a woman to stop her from exercising a constitutional right that even incarcerated criminals have access to. At this moment, the Trump administration is exerting direct control over the reproductive capacities of a 17-year-old girl in Texas, holding her in federal custody and refusing to let her obtain an abortion. A state judge has granted her the right to terminate her pregnancy; the administration does not care. The entire Garza affair has been darkly enlightening. An advocate for a 17-year-old Central American girl who entered this country illegally said that by delaying an abortion for the girl, federal agencies and an appellate court have forced her to obtain a more invasive, lengthier and expensive procedure, if she can get an abortion at all. Courtney Cahill, a professor at Florida State University College of Law, described the Garza majority's decision as a compromise ruling. Two judges on the panel seem reluctant to cast what is happening in the girl's case as an undue burden and did not address the argument that HHS's refusal to hand her over so she can have an abortion is an undue burden, said Cahill, who focuses on matters where family law and constitutional law intersect. The idea of what complicity is and what facilitating is being stretched, she said. "I've never seen the government make this argument in the abortion context," Cahill said.

Jane Doe is a child. At 17, she is considered a minor by US law and international human-rights law. Doe is also an undocumented immigrant and 15 weeks pregnant—and is seeking an abortion. Dear Ms. Wynne,

I'm a reporter with The New Yorker Magazine, and I'd like get your comment on a story I'm doing, on deadline, about your role at HHS and claims made to me by a number of your former colleagues that you are responsible for the recent positions taken by O.R.R. in limiting the abortions of minors in its care.

There are a number of specific and credible claims that are made that I'd like to go through with you.

I'd prefer to talk by phone, if you can, but I'm happy to correspond over email, too, if it's easier. Below are the details I plan to include in my piece. I welcome any comments, clarifications, or corrections you may have.

Thanks for your time.

Best,
Jonathan Blitzer

-You have worked at H.H.S. for more than a decade, under the Bush and Obama Administrations, in a range of different positions.

-One of those positions was the director of its anti-trafficking program.

-You once worked at the Knights of Columbus.

- You helped lead the transition team at H.H.S. in the late fall of 2016.
- You were close to Tom Price.
- According to flight manifests, you were also some of the private chartered planes that Price took while head of HHS.
- During the presidential transition, appointees from the previous administration—which included all of the heads of H.H.S. offices—weren't invited to meetings.
- Only the career bureaucrats were invited, which many former members of the office described as unusual.
- Former colleagues described you as strongly pro-life.
- As the director of the trafficking program at O.R.R., you oversaw a team of social workers who assessed the eligibility of victims to get temporary health benefits while their legal cases were being adjudicated.
- According to former colleagues, you often did not trust the stories of these individuals when they were represented by lawyers because you thought lawyers were coaching them on how to get the benefits.
- According to former colleagues, any time an individual's story changed, you assumed she was lying.
- According to former colleagues, you frequently looked for contradictions in the accounts of victims requesting benefits.
- When your office rejected a victim's request, an appeal generally followed, which caused a large backlog of cases that O.R.R. leadership had to clear.
- In 2011, the Obama Administration created new criteria for O.R.R. grants: if an aid organization refused to offer complete medical care to the minors in its custody at a shelter, it would receive a lower score on its grant application to obtain funds from O.R.R.
- A confidential government document outlining the new grant criteria was shared with Republican Congressman Darrel Issa.
- Several H.H.S. staffers claim that you were responsible for sharing that memo with Issa.

- You left H.H.S. in 2016 when you were passed over for a promotion.
- You rejoined the agency in January, 2017.
- In the early months of the new year, staffers at O.R.R. reported to you.
- In March, a memo circulated at O.R.R. with the subject line "custodial decisions to preserve the health of a pregnant UAC."
- Subsequent emails circulating at ORR indicated that shelters "should not conduct procedures, or take any steps that facilitate future procedures such as scheduling appointments, transportation, or other arrangements."
- One former HHS official with knowledge of the office maintains that you were responsible for these policies before Scott Lloyd took over.

- Predictive Analytics in Child Welfare: An Introduction for Administrators and Policy Makers, report and web tool. These are companion pieces to the recently approved Predictive Analytics in Child Welfare: An Assessment of Current Efforts, Challenges, and Opportunities. The report introduces child welfare administrators and policy makers to the benefits and challenges faced in using predictive analytics to improve child welfare practice. It suggests questions that administrators and policy makers considering a predictive analytics effort can use to improve the likelihood that the effort will produce useful information and improve outcomes for children and families. Issues discussed include: data sufficiency; data quantity; the identification of a well-considered implementation strategy; resource requirements; stakeholder support; model validation; model accuracy; and model precision. The web tool is an interactive decision tree that helps an administrator or policy maker step through the criteria with a particular project in mind, and for any criteria that aren't fully met it provides suggestions on ways to improve the endeavor's probability of success (e.g., ask your data folks to develop strategies to improve A, B and C, engage with stakeholders on X, Y and Z).

ASA

- Item: FISMA Q4

Category: Routine (quarterly)

Action Needed By: October 31

Summary: The draft FISMA Q4 report will be submitted to OCIO management for review during the first week of October. Currently, the FY17 Senior Agency Official for Privacy (SAOP) Report questionnaire has not been provided to Federal agencies. We ask DHS for an update on a weekly basis. They have not received the template from the Federal Privacy Team as of yet, though they continue to ask for it as well. This may impact the reporting cycle since OpDivs will need to submit both the CIO and SAOP reports to their OpDiv Heads for final review. In addition, the OIG submits data into the CyberScope tool based on the FISMA audits. This will not be completed until October 10th. OIS will review all data before final submission. All three reports (CIO, SAOP and OIG) must be included in the package that is submitted to the CIO, ASA and the Secretary. The package will include a letter for the Secretary to sign.

Justification: OIS has scheduled two weeks for ASA/Exec/Secretary review. All information must be submitted to OMB/DHS by October 31.

Subject: unaccompanied alien children

Deadline: October 12, for story publishing today

Spokesperson: ACF

QUERY:

I'm working on a follow-up to the Jane Doe story and had a few specific questions for ACF related to emails the ACLU of Northern California included in one of its federal court filings. A lot of these emails were excerpted by the Center for Investigative Reporting and written here: <https://www.revealnews.org/blog/court-filing-trump-appointee-blocks-pregnant-teen-migrant-from-getting-abortion/>

The questions I had were:

1. How many children in HHS' custody are pregnant?
2. Is it ORR policy to forbid (or discourage) unaccompanied children in its custody from seeking a judicial bypass of abortion restrictions? (Noting email from Scott Lloyd: "She should not be meeting with an attorney regarding her termination or otherwise pursuing judicial bypass at this point.")
3. Is it ORR policy to require unaccompanied children in its custody to obtain parental consent and specifically a notarized declaration of consent from the parents, even if the parents might be in a foreign country? (Noting email at top of Document 84-8: "After the options counseling, if the UC still desires the abortion, and it is still within the window for a legal abortion,
 - a. the UC must obtain parental consent, which will necessitate options counseling with them, plus signed, notarized declaration of consent."))
4. Related to those questions, has ORR codified guidance in a March 30 email from Scott Lloyd (Document 84-4: "Grantees should not be supporting abortion services pre or post-release; only pregnancy services and life-affirming options counseling.")
5. In a March 22 email, a writer whose name is blacked out questions whether ORR's directive not to allow unaccompanied children to get a judicial bypass is legally sound. The response to that email is entirely blacked out. What did ORR instruct that writer and others who may have questioned the policy? (March 22 email in Document 84-3: "Isn't that contrary to state law? My understanding is that the judicial bypass was created specifically so that the young lady does not need approval from her guardian (in our case the Director of ORR) to move forward with a term of pregnancy.")
6. Has Director Lloyd spoken directly to any individual children seeking an abortion? (Noting email in Document 84-6 from Jonathan White: "Were you able to speak with the pregnant girl at the SWK site (KAMM)?" And Scott Lloyd response "Yes—they were going to a CPC site today and we're going to discharge according to my understanding.")

Hi Sabrina-

I apologize for my delayed response, I have been out of the office. I am not sure we are going to be able to make this work this week because Secretary Price is going to be out on travel. With that being said, we will certainly try. I am putting you in touch with Jen Moughalian from HHS. Please work with her on the topic and she will circle back with us in scheduling to try and get this on the books.

Thank you,

Hi Amanda,

Just following up, I'll be around next week through Thursday but will be out after that for work-related travel or work-from-home through October 30.

On questions 2 and 3 below, I would guess that the Ag Department – which funds all the nutrition-focused programs – would have or know about studies on what nutritional health strategies have shown merit or not, and could best comment on metrics.

Do you have a contact at Food and Nutrition Services already?

Coincidentally, there's a relatively new person at DPC who came from FNS at Ag. Like me, she was a career fed but is now a political appointee working with welfare team.

Scott,

See below message from Wilfred Calero, the FFS for the SWK Glendale facility. At this time, the UAC at Glendale has chosen not to proceed with request for TOP.

I will update further only if there are any changes or significant developments.

Ivonne,

I am writing to advise that there has been an update in the above referenced case. It appears that after program completed a family session in a clinical setting with UC Sponsor and UC, that the UC has decided to have her child to term and forego the TOP as previously requested. Below please find the communication provided by the program.

If there is any additional information I will forward or any questions that I need to present to the program please let me know.

Program Email Communication to FFS:

"Topic [TOP] was discussed with Aunt/ potential sponsor who appeared supportive towards the pregnancy. Client overheard the conversation with aunt and in hearing aunts support and excitement client has verbalized that she wishes to keep the baby."

Thanks for your attention on this matter.

Here is the reconciled/final statement from last evening, attributable to the Administration for Children and Families at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services –

“In most cases when a child enters the United States illegally without a parent or guardian, by law the minor is placed into the care and custody of the Office of Refugee Resettlement at HHS’ Administration for Children and Families. At that point, our paramount concern is the child’s safety and well-being. While the child is in our custody, our goal is to provide food, shelter and care to her under federal statute. In this specific case, we are providing excellent care to the adolescent girl and her unborn child, who remain under our care until the mother’s release.”

Thanks for your help, Matt.

Here's the condensed version, as promised. I'm also copying my colleague, Natalie Meade, who's fact-checking the article.

Yours,
Jon

-Another official behind O.R.R.'s renewed interest in abortion issues is Margaret Wynne, an H.H.S. veteran who worked under Presidents Bush and Obama, and who now serves as Counselor for Human Services Policy at H.H.S.

-Wynne's former colleagues described her to me as ardently pro-life.

-Like Lloyd, she once worked at the Knights of Columbus, and before joining H.H.S. she served as the director of the House of Representatives Pro Life Caucus.

-Under Obama, Wynne ran O.R.R.'s anti-human trafficking program, overseeing a team of two social workers who assessed the eligibility of foreign minors to get public benefits as victims of human trafficking.

-“She did not trust the stories of these individuals anytime a lawyer was involved,” one former colleague told me. “She assumed the lawyers were coaching victims to get benefits. And any time a kid’s story changed, she acted like they were lying.”

(b)(5)

-Wynne left H.H.S. in 2016, after years of clashing with other officials in the Obama Administration.

-But she returned to help lead the new team of political appointees at H.H.S. after last November’s election^[JB1] ^[JB2] -She is one of very few political appointees at the Department with extensive prior experience involving O.R.R.

-Until Lloyd took over, staffers at O.R.R. reported to her.

-“O.R.R.’s policies reflect her choices,” I was told.

Dear Ms. Wynne,

I'm a reporter with The New Yorker Magazine, and I'd like get your comment on a story I'm doing, on deadline, about your role at HHS and claims made to me by a number of your former colleagues that you are responsible for the recent positions taken by O.R.R. in limiting the abortions of minors in its care.

There are a number of specific and credible claims that are made that I'd like to go through with you.

I'd prefer to talk by phone, if you can, but I'm happy to correspond over email, too, if it's easier. Below are the details I plan to include in my piece. I welcome any comments, clarifications, or corrections you may have.

Thanks for your time.

- You have worked at H.H.S. for more than a decade, under the Bush and Obama Administrations, in a range of different positions.
- One of those positions was the director of its anti-trafficking program.
- You once worked at the Knights of Columbus.
- You helped lead the transition team at H.H.S. in the late fall of 2016.
- You were close to Tom Price.
- According to flight manifests, you were also some of the private chartered planes that Price took while head of HHS.
- During the presidential transition, appointees from the previous administration—which included all of the heads of H.H.S. offices—weren't invited to meetings.
- Only the career bureaucrats were invited, which many former members of the office described as unusual.

- Former colleagues described you as strongly pro-life.
- As the director of the trafficking program at O.R.R., you oversaw a team of social workers who assessed the eligibility of victims to get temporary health benefits while their legal cases were being adjudicated.
- According to former colleagues, you often did not trust the stories of these individuals when they were represented by lawyers because you thought lawyers were coaching them on how to get the benefits.
- According to former colleagues, any time an individual's story changed, you assumed she was lying.
- According to former colleagues, you frequently looked for contradictions in the accounts of victims requesting benefits.
- When your office rejected a victim's request, an appeal generally followed, which caused a large backlog of cases that O.R.R. leadership had to clear.
- In 2011, the Obama Administration created new criteria for O.R.R. grants: if an aid organization refused to offer complete medical care to the minors in its custody at a shelter, it would receive a lower score on its grant application to obtain funds from O.R.R.
- A confidential government document outlining the new grant criteria was shared with Republican Congressman Darrel Issa.
- Several H.H.S. staffers claim that you were responsible for sharing that memo with Issa.
- You left H.H.S. in 2016 when you were passed over for a promotion.
- You rejoined the agency in January, 2017.
- In the early months of the new year, staffers at O.R.R. reported to you.

-In March, a memo circulated at O.R.R. with the subject line "custodial decisions to preserve the health of a pregnant UAC."

-Subsequent emails circulating at ORR indicated that shelters "should not conduct procedures, or take any steps that facilitate future procedures such as scheduling appointments, transportation, or other arrangements."

-One former HHS official with knowledge of the office maintains that you were responsible for these policies before Scott Lloyd took over.

In case this is helpful to have at hand.

§ 75.372 Termination.

(a) The Federal award may be terminated in whole or in part as follows:

- (1) By the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity, if the non-Federal entity fails to comply with the terms and conditions of the award;
- (2) By the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity for cause;
- (3) By the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity with the consent of the non-Federal entity, in which case the two parties must agree upon the termination conditions, including the effective date and, in the case of partial termination, the portion to be terminated; or
- (4) By the non-Federal entity upon sending to the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity written notification setting forth the reasons for such termination, the effective date, and, in the case of partial termination, the portion to be terminated. However, if the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity determines in the case of partial termination that the reduced or modified portion of the Federal award or subaward will not accomplish the purposes for which the Federal award was made, the HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity may terminate the Federal award in its entirety.

(b) When an HHS awarding agency terminates a Federal award prior to the end of the period of performance due to the non-Federal entity's material failure to comply with the Federal award terms and conditions, the HHS awarding agency must report the termination to the OMB-designated integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently FAPIIS).

- (1) The information required under this paragraph (b) is not to be reported to the designated integrity and performance system until after the non-Federal entity either—
 - (i) Has exhausted its opportunities to object or challenge the decision, see § 75.374; or
 - (ii) Has not, within 30 calendar days after being notified of the termination, informed the HHS awarding agency that it intends to appeal the HHS awarding agency's decision to terminate.
- (2) If an HHS awarding agency, after entering information into the designated integrity and performance system about a termination, subsequently:
 - (i) Learns that any of the information is erroneous, the HHS awarding agency must correct the information in the system within three business days;

(ii) Obtains an update to that information that could be helpful to other Federal awarding agencies, the HHS awarding agency is strongly encouraged to amend the information in the system to incorporate the update in a timely way;

(3) HHS awarding agencies shall not post any information that will be made publicly available in the non-public segment of the designated integrity and performance system that is covered by a disclosure exemption under the Freedom of Information Act. If the non-Federal entity asserts within seven calendar days to the HHS awarding agency who posted the information, that some of the information made publicly available is covered by a disclosure exemption under the Freedom of Information Act, the HHS awarding agency who posted the information must remove the posting within seven calendar days of receiving the assertion. Prior to reposting the releasable information, the HHS agency must resolve the issue in accordance with the agency's Freedom of Information Act procedures.

(c) When a Federal award is terminated or partially terminated, both the HHS awarding agency or pass-through agency and the non-Federal entity remain responsible for compliance with the requirements of §§ 75.381 through 75.390.

§ 75.373 Notification of termination requirement.

(a) The HHS awarding agency or pass-through entity must provide to the non-Federal entity a notice of termination.

(b) If the Federal award is terminated for the non-Federal entity's material failure to comply with the Federal statutes, regulations, or terms and conditions of the Federal award, the notification must state that—

(1) The termination decision will be reported to the OMB-designated integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently FAPIIS);

(2) The information will be available in the OMB-designated integrity and performance system for a period of five years from the date of the termination, then archived;

(3) HHS awarding agencies that consider making a Federal award to the non-Federal entity during that five year period must consider that information in judging whether the non-Federal entity is qualified to receive the Federal award, when the Federal share of the Federal award is expected to exceed the simplified acquisition threshold over the period of performance;

(4) The non-Federal entity may comment on any information the OMB-designated integrity and performance system contains about the non-Federal entity for future consideration by HHS awarding agencies. The non-Federal entity may submit comments to the awardee integrity and performance portal accessible through SAM (currently CPARS).

(5) Federal awarding agencies will consider non-Federal entity comments when determining whether the non-Federal entity is qualified for a future Federal award.

(c) Upon termination of a Federal award, the HHS awarding agency must provide the information required under FFATA to the Federal Web site established to fulfill the requirements of FFATA, and update or notify any other relevant government-wide systems or entities of any indications of poor performance as required by 41 U.S.C. 417b and 31 U.S.C. 3321 and implementing guidance at 2 CFR part 77 (forthcoming at time of publication). Aliens' Right to Counsel in Removal Proceedings: In Brief

Kate M. Manuel
Legislative Attorney

March 17, 2016

Congressional Research Service

7-5700

www.crs.gov

R43613

Summary

The scope of aliens' right to counsel in removal proceedings is a topic of recurring congressional and public interest. This topic is complicated, in part, because the term right to counsel can refer to either (1) the right to counsel of one's own choice at one's own expense, or (2) the right of indigent persons to counsel at the government's expense. A right to counsel can also arise from multiple sources, including the Fifth and Sixth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), other federal statutes, and federal regulations. Further, in some cases, courts have declined to recognize a categorical right to counsel, applicable to all aliens in removal proceedings, but have opined that individual aliens could have a right to counsel at the government's expense on a case-by-case basis because of their specific circumstances.

Right to Counsel at the Alien's Expense. The Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution has generally been construed to mean that aliens have a right to counsel at their own expense in formal removal proceedings. The Fifth Amendment guarantees that "[n]o person ... shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property" without due process of law. Aliens—including those who have entered or remained in the United States in violation of federal immigration law—have been found to be encompassed by the Fifth Amendment's usage of "person," and removal can be seen as implicating an alien's interest in liberty. Thus, courts have historically viewed access to counsel at one's own expense as required to ensure "fundamental fairness" in formal removal proceedings. While then-Attorney General Mukasey's 2009 decision in Matter of Compean expressed doubt about the Fifth Amendment basis for aliens' right to counsel at their own expense, this decision was subsequently vacated later in 2009 by then-Attorney General Holder.

Various federal statutes and regulations also provide aliens (other than those in expedited removal proceedings under Section 235 of the INA) with a right to counsel at their own expense. Some of these provisions refer to such counsel as a "privilege." However, the provisions have generally been construed as conferring a legally enforceable right.

Right to Counsel at the Government's Expense. Aliens, as a group, generally do not have a right to counsel at the government's expense in administrative removal proceedings under either the Sixth Amendment or the INA. The Sixth Amendment's "right to ... have the Assistance of Counsel" at government expense, in the case of indigent persons, applies to criminal proceedings. Removal proceedings, in contrast, are civil in nature (although aliens subject to judicial orders of removal could be seen to have a Sixth Amendment right to counsel in the criminal proceedings that result in such orders). Similarly, the INA and its implementing regulations do not purport to provide a right to appointed counsel for any aliens except those removed by the Alien Terrorist Removal Court, which has not been used to date.

Individual aliens could, however, potentially be found to have a right to counsel at the government's expense on other grounds, depending upon the facts and circumstances of the case. Several federal courts of appeals have suggested that the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of due process could require the appointment of counsel on a case-by-case basis for individual aliens who are incapable of representing themselves due to "age, ignorance, or mental capacity," although it is unclear whether any alien has been provided with appointed counsel on this basis to date. In addition, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act has been construed to require the appointment of "qualified representatives" for aliens who are "mentally incompetent" to represent themselves in removal proceedings. These representatives may be pro bono, or appointed at government expense, and they can include licensed attorneys as well as persons who are not attorneys.

The scope of aliens' right to counsel in removal proceedings (i.e., proceedings to remove them from the United States) is a topic of recurring congressional and public interest. This topic is complicated, in part, because the term right to counsel can refer to either (1) the right to counsel of one's own choice at one's own expense, or (2) the right of indigent persons to counsel at the government's expense. A right to counsel can also arise from multiple sources, including the Fifth and Sixth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), other federal statutes, and federal regulations. In addition, federal, state, and local governments may provide counsel to aliens in circumstances where they have not been seen as having a legal right to counsel.¹

As used here, the term removal proceeding refers to formal proceedings before an immigration judge under Section 240 of the INA.² There are other types of proceedings that can result in an alien being removed from the United States—most notably, expedited removal under Section 235 of the INA.³ However, insofar as these other types of proceedings may involve aliens who have few, if any, ties to the United States, the aliens subject to them could be seen to lack constitutional or statutory rights to counsel,⁴ and thus this report does not address these other forms of removal proceedings.

This report provides an overview of the various legal authorities governing aliens' right to counsel—as that term is broadly understood—in removal proceedings. It does not address aliens' right to counsel in criminal proceedings, the outcomes of which could potentially affect their

WEL. & INS'T CODE §13300(a) (2016) ("Subject to the availability of funding in the act that added this chapter or the annual Budget Act, the department shall contract ... with qualified nonprofit legal services organizations to provide legal services to unaccompanied undocumented minors who are transferred to the care and custody of the federal Office of Refugee Resettlement and who are present in this state.").

³ See generally 8 U.S.C. §1225.

⁴ See, e.g., United States v. Barajas-Alvarado, 655 F.3 1077, 1088 (9th Cir. 2011) ("Barajas-Alvarado himself identifies no legal basis for his claim that non-admitted aliens who have not entered the United States have a right to representation ... The cases cited by Barajas-Alvarado involve aliens in the more formal removal proceedings, where the regulations provide a right of counsel, as compared to expedited removal proceedings, where they do not... Because non-admitted aliens are entitled only to whatever process Congress provides, ... Barajas-Alvarado's lack of representation in the removal proceeding did not constitute a procedural error at all, let alone a due process violation."); United States v. Garcia-Villa, No. 14CR1481WQH, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 139854, at *10 (S.D. Cal., September 30, 2014) ("No statutory or regulatory provision of the expedited removal proceedings [under Section 235 of the INA] provides a right to consult with counsel. Defendant Garcia was a non-admitted alien at the time of his expedited removal proceedings and 'non-admitted aliens are entitled to only whatever process Congress provides.'"). Some commentators have suggested, however, that aliens subject to expedited removal under Section 235 of the INA have a statutory right to counsel at their own expense under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) on the grounds that the APA creates an "entitlement" to counsel for persons "compelled to appear in person before an agency or representative thereof." See generally Emily Creighton & Robert Pauw, Right to Counsel Before DHS, available at <http://www.legalactioncenter.org/sites/default/files/docs/lac/Right-to-Counsel-Article.pdf> (last accessed March 3, 2016). This argument is outside the scope of this report, since this report focuses on "formal" removal proceedings under Section 240 of the INA.

ability to remain in the United States under immigration law.⁵ The report also does not address effective assistance of counsel.⁶

Right to Counsel at the Alien's Expense

Aliens have generally been seen as having both constitutional and statutory rights to counsel at their own expense in formal removal proceedings. The constitutional right is grounded in the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of due process, while the statutory right arises from the INA and related provisions of immigration law. The regulations implementing these statutory provisions further establish these and other rights pertaining to counsel in removal proceedings.

Fifth Amendment

The Fifth Amendment guarantees that "[n]o person ... shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property" without due process of law.⁷ Aliens—including those who have entered or remained in the United States in violation of federal immigration law—have been found to be encompassed by the Fifth Amendment's usage of "person,"⁸ and removal can be seen as implicating an alien's interest in liberty.⁹ Thus, courts have historically viewed access to counsel at one's own expense as required to ensure "fundamental fairness" in formal removal proceedings.¹⁰ For example, in Leslie v. Attorney General, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit (Third Circuit) noted

⁵ See, e.g., INA §237(a)(2)(A)(ii), 8 U.S.C. §1227(a)(2)(A)(ii) (aliens who are convicted of two or more "crimes involving moral turpitude", not arising from a single scheme of criminal conduct, at any time after admission are deportable); INA §240A(a), 8 U.S.C. §1229b(a) (cancellation of removal may not be granted to otherwise eligible lawful permanent resident (LPR) aliens who have been convicted of "aggravated felonies").

Fisher*, 189 U.S. 86, 101 (1903) (aliens who have "become subject in all respects to [the] jurisdiction [of the United States], and a part of its population," are entitled to due process in removal proceedings, even if they are "alleged to be illegally here"). In 1996, Congress created a new unified proceeding known as removal, combining exclusion and deportation proceedings into one.

⁹ See, e.g., Bridges v. Wixon, 326 U.S. 135, 154 (1945) ("[Because removal] visits a great hardship on the individual and deprives him of the right to stay and live and work in this land of freedom[,] ... meticulous care must be exercised lest the procedure by which [an alien] is deprived of that liberty not meet the essential standards of fairness."). In certain cases, removal proceedings also implicate a liberty interest in being free from detention because the INA requires that aliens be held pending the issuance of a final order of removal, or pending the execution of such a removal order. See, e.g., Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 690 (2001); Ly v. Hansen, 351 F.3d 263, 269 (6th Cir. 2002).

that “although the Fifth Amendment does not mandate government-appointed counsel for aliens at removal proceedings, it indisputably affords an alien the right to counsel of his or her own choice at his or her own expense.”¹¹ Similarly, in United States v. Charleswell, the Third Circuit described aliens’ right to counsel at their own expense in formal removal proceedings as “so fundamental to the proceeding’s fairness” that a denial of this right could “rise to the level of fundamental unfairness.”¹² Aliens’ Fifth Amendment right to counsel at their own expense has also been seen as underlying the INA’s provisions granting aliens a right to counsel at their own expense,¹³ discussed below, although courts have generally treated actions that deprive aliens of counsel at their own expenses as violating the statute, not the Constitution.¹⁴

Then-Attorney General Mukasey departed from this general view in his 2009 decision in Matter of Compean, finding that aliens have no Fifth Amendment right to counsel at their own expense in removal proceedings.¹⁵ This finding formed, in part, the basis for his articulation of a new standard for assessing claims of ineffective assistance of counsel in removal proceedings,¹⁶ since aliens cannot be said to have a constitutional right to effective assistance of counsel in removal proceedings if they lack any constitutional right to counsel in these proceedings.¹⁷ However, this decision was vacated later in 2009 by then-Attorney General Holder.¹⁸ Mr. Holder’s decision in Matter of Compean is primarily concerned with the standards for assessing claims of ineffective assistance of counsel in removal proceedings,¹⁹ but the vacatur apparently encompasses Mr. Mukasey’s findings about aliens’ Fifth Amendment right to counsel at their own expense.

INA and Other Provisions of Immigration Law

Various provisions of the INA and other immigration-related statutes, as well as their implementing regulations, provide aliens with a right to counsel at their own expense in removal proceedings. Section 292 of the INA generally governs aliens’ right to counsel, and provides that,

In any removal proceedings before an immigration judge and in any appeal proceedings before the Attorney General from any such removal proceedings, the person concerned

However, other provisions of the INA or related statutes address the rights of particular categories of aliens (e.g., children),²¹ or aliens' rights in particular types of removal proceedings (e.g., expedited removal under Section 238 of the INA).²² These statutory provisions also afford aliens certain other rights as to counsel in removal proceedings. Specifically, they (1) impose restrictions upon when hearings in removal proceedings may be held, so as to permit aliens the opportunity to obtain counsel;²³ (2) require that aliens against whom removal proceedings have been initiated be furnished with lists of persons available for pro bono representation;²⁴ and (3) establish additional protections for classes of aliens who are seen as particularly "vulnerable" (e.g., unaccompanied minors, "mentally incompetent" individuals).²⁵ Many of these statutory provisions describe aliens' retention of counsel at their own expense as a "privilege."²⁶ However,

²¹ See, e.g., 8 U.S.C. §1232(c)(5) ("The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall ensure, to the greatest extent practicable and consistent with section 292 of the [INA] ..., that all unaccompanied alien children who are or have been in the custody of the Secretary or the Secretary of Homeland Security, and who are not nationals or habitual residents of countries contiguous with the United States, have counsel to represent them in legal proceedings or matters and protect them from mistreatment, exploitation, and trafficking."); INA §240(b)(3), 8 U.S.C. §1229a(b)(3) ("If it is impracticable by reason of an alien's mental incompetency for the alien to be present at the proceeding, the Attorney General shall prescribe safeguards to protect the rights and privileges of the alien."). Among other things, the safeguards for "mentally incompetent" aliens (1) call for service of the Notice to Appear (NTA) initiating removal proceedings upon near relatives, guardians, or friends of the alien, 8 C.F.R. §103.8(c)(2); 8 C.F.R. §236.2(a); (2) permit attorneys, legal representatives and guardians, and family and friends of the alien to appear on the alien's behalf in removal proceedings, 8 C.F.R. §1240.4; and (3) bar immigration judges from accepting admissions of removability from unrepresented respondents who are "incompetent" absent certain assistance from third parties, 8 C.F.R. §1240.10(c).

²⁵ See, e.g., 6 U.S.C. §279(b)(1)(A) (requiring the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) at the Department of Health and Human Services to develop a plan to "ensure that qualified and independent legal counsel is timely appointed to represent the interests of each such child, consistent with the law regarding appointment of counsel that is in effect on November 25, 2002"). Despite the reference to the "appointment" of counsel, this provision has generally not been construed to require that unaccompanied alien children (UAC) receive counsel at the government's expense because such representation is to be "consistent with the law regarding appointment of counsel that is in effect on November 25, 2002," and the INA at that time generally provided only for aliens' right to counsel at their own expense. ORR sought to meet this mandate by contracting with the Vera Institute of Justice in 2005 to develop and test ways to provide legal representation to UAC. See Shani M. King, Alone and Unrepresented: A Call to Congress to Provide Counsel for Unaccompanied Minors, 5 HARV. J. LEG. 332, 340 (2013). The Institute, in turn, oversees programs at 26 nonprofit agencies that provide legal assistance to UAC throughout the country. Vera Institute for Justice, Unaccompanied Children Program, available at <http://www.vera.org/project/unaccompanied-children-program> (last accessed February 26, 2016). Among other things, these agencies make presentations about legal rights at local detention facilities before UAC's first court appearance, conduct individual screenings to identify UAC's legal needs and furnish information, and provide pro bono assistance and referrals. Id. For more on the protections for "mentally incompetent" individuals, see supra note 21.

the implementing regulations are drafted so as to suggest that there is a legal right to counsel at the alien's expense,²⁷ and numerous courts have construed the INA as establishing a statutory right to counsel at the alien's expense.²⁸

These and other courts have generally viewed aliens' statutory right to counsel at their own expense as satisfied if the immigration judge inquires whether the alien wishes counsel, gives any alien wishing counsel a reasonable period of time in which to obtain it, and determines that any waivers of this right are knowing and voluntary.²⁹ On the other hand, violations of aliens' right to counsel at their own expense have been found in specific circumstances where (1) the alien was not advised of his/her due process rights, including the right to counsel, in a language s/he could understand;³⁰ (2) the alien was transferred to a remote facility without notice to his/her attorney;³¹ (3) the government exercised "unexplained" haste in beginning removal proceedings;³² (4) the alien was prevented from consulting with counsel prior to signing a voluntary departure form;³³ (5) the alien was denied access to basic written legal materials;³⁴ and (6) the alien was denied a change of venue to allow the retention of counsel.³⁵ Courts in some jurisdictions have, however, found that violations of aliens' statutory right to counsel at their own expense are not, in themselves, grounds for reopening removal proceedings or otherwise permitting the alien to re-litigate his/her removability or eligibility for relief from removal.³⁶ Instead, courts in these jurisdictions have generally required that aliens show that any violation of their statutory rights was "prejudicial" in that the outcome of the proceeding could have been different absent the violation.³⁷ For example, in United States v. Reyes-Bonilla, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit found that an alien was not entitled to have his conviction for violating 8 U.S.C. § 1326 (being a deported alien found in the United States without permission) overturned due to a violation of his statutory rights because he could not show the requisite prejudice resulting from such violation.³⁸ In so finding, the Ninth Circuit noted that the immigration judge had failed to provide Reyes-Bonilla the requisite notice of his rights—including his right to counsel at his own expense—in a language he could understand during his removal proceedings. However, it did not view this error as having affected the outcome of the proceeding because Reyes-Bonilla's ability to obtain relief from removal was "severely limited," regardless of whether he had counsel, due to his "prior convictions for aggravated felonies."³⁹

Right to Counsel at the Government's Expense

Aliens, as a category, have generally not been seen as having either constitutional or statutory rights to counsel at the government's expense in administrative removal proceedings. The Sixth Amendment right to appointed counsel for indigent persons applies only in criminal proceedings, not in civil proceedings such as removal. The INA and its implementing regulations also do not purport to provide a right to counsel at the government's expense for any aliens except those subject to removal proceedings before the Alien Terrorist Removal Court, which has not been used to date. Nonetheless, individual aliens could be found to have a right to counsel at the government's expense based on the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of due process or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, depending upon the facts and circumstances of the case.

Sixth Amendment

Courts have repeatedly declined to find that indigent aliens have a Sixth Amendment right to counsel at the government's expense in removal proceedings.⁴⁰ Those who would afford such a right to aliens often emphasize the serious consequences that being removed from the United States can have for aliens.⁴¹ They sometimes also note that immigration law has become increasingly intertwined with criminal law (a phenomenon sometimes referred to as "crimmigration"⁴²).⁴³ However, such arguments have consistently proved unavailing because the Sixth Amendment explicitly refers to "the Assistance of Counsel" in "criminal proceedings,"⁴⁴

³⁸ See generally 671 F.3d 1036 (9th Cir. 2012).

³⁹ Id. at 1049. In so finding, the Ninth Circuit expressly declined to adopt the view that any error is, per se, prejudicial, instead requiring a showing of actual prejudice to the alien's case. Id. at 1047-1048.

and removal proceedings are civil in nature.⁴⁵ Thus, courts have deemed it appropriate that aliens subject to removal receive a different degree of protections than criminal defendants because removal proceedings are civil, not criminal.⁴⁶

Aliens are, however, entitled to counsel at the government's expense in criminal proceedings to the same extent as citizens.⁴⁷ This can include any criminal proceedings that may also result in a judicial order of removal, although such orders are rarely sought.⁴⁸

INA and Other Provisions of Immigration Law

The INA also generally does not purport to afford aliens a right to counsel at the government's expense in removal proceedings. Alone among the provisions of the INA, 8 U.S.C. Section 1534 states that "[a]ny alien financially unable to obtain counsel shall be entitled to have counsel assigned to represent" him or her.⁴⁹ However, this provision applies only to aliens removed by the Alien Terrorist Removal Court, a forum which has not been used to date.⁵⁰ All the other provisions of the INA and their implementing regulations specify that aliens' right to counsel shall be "at no expense to the government."⁵¹

In fact, some have suggested that the INA's provisions regarding counsel "at no expense to the government" bar the government from providing or otherwise paying for aliens' counsel in removal proceedings.⁵² Those making this argument seemingly construe the language about aliens' "privilege" to have counsel at their own expense to mean that the government may not pay for counsel for them. However, an argument could be made that these provisions only restrict aliens' ability to claim an entitlement to counsel at the government's expense, and do not preclude the government from paying for aliens' counsel pursuant to other provisions of law or at its discretion.⁵³ Indeed, as previously noted, the federal government—as well as certain local governments—have adopted programs to provide counsel for at least certain aliens in removal proceedings.⁵⁴

In contrast, several federal courts of appeals⁵⁵ have opined that the Fifth Amendment's guarantee of due process could require the appointment of counsel for individual aliens who are incapable of representing themselves due to "age, ignorance, or mental capacity."⁵⁶ The earliest and most frequently cited example of this appears to be the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit's 1975 decision in Aguilera-Enriquez v. Immigration and Naturalization Service.⁵⁷ There, the court rejected the argument that Section 292 of the INA—which provides for aliens to be represented by counsel in removal proceedings at their own expense—unconstitutionally deprived aliens of their right to counsel. In so doing, the court indicated that it viewed the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to require the appointment of counsel "[w]here an unrepresented indigent alien would require counsel to present his position adequately to an immigration judge."⁵⁸ However, the court viewed the entitlement to appointed counsel as being determined on a case-by-case basis, and, in this case, it concluded that there was "no defense for which a lawyer would have helped."⁵⁹

There are certain contexts wherein courts have recognized a Fifth Amendment right to appointed counsel for all persons subject to particular types of proceedings, regardless of their individual circumstances.⁶⁰ However, courts have, to date, declined to take this approach to aliens—or even particular subcategories of aliens—facing removal proceedings.⁶¹ A federal district court in Washington expressly rejected the argument that unaccompanied alien children (UAC), as a class, have a due process right to appointed counsel in its 2002 decision Gonzalez Machado v. Ashcroft.⁶² In so doing, the court indicated that the “[c]ase law does not demonstrate ... that the right to counsel is on an inevitable path of outward expansion,”⁶³ a factor which the court viewed as significant since, in its view, the plaintiff would have to show that the precedents finding that aliens have no right to counsel at the government’s expense in removal proceedings have been “eroded” by subsequent decisions or “become anachronistic” in order to prevail in the face of the government’s motion to dismiss the complaint.⁶⁴ More recently, though, in its 2015 decision in J.E.F.M. v. Holder, another federal district court in Washington denied the government’s motion to dismiss a similar challenge brought by UAC alleging that the failure to provide them with counsel at the government’s expense deprived them of due process in violation of the Fifth Amendment.⁶⁵ The court did so, in part, on the grounds that “[a] fundamental precept of due process is that individuals have a right to be heard at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner before being condemned to suffer grievous loss of any kind,” and UAC cannot effectively exercise this right without the assistance of counsel.⁶⁶

It is important to note, however, that the J.E.F.M. decision addressed only the federal government’s motion to dismiss the aliens’ complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, and did not affirmatively require the federal government to provide counsel to the plaintiff UAC at the government’s expense. To date, there does not appear to be any published decision in which a court has found that the Due Process Clause requires the appointment of counsel for an individual alien.⁶⁷

⁶⁴ Order Granting Motion to Dismiss, supra note 62, at 13. Similarly, in his 2009 decision in Matter of Compean, then-Attorney General Mukasey distinguished the potential loss of physical liberty associated with removal proceedings from that in other proceedings wherein courts have found a categorical right to appointed counsel under the Due Process Clause on the grounds that the loss of physical liberty is incidental to removal proceedings, rather than the outcome of such proceedings. 24 I. & N. Dec. at 718 n.3 (“Although an alien may be detained during the course of removal proceedings, he does not ‘lose his physical liberty’ based on the outcome of the proceeding.”). In so stating, Attorney General Mukasey was apparently influenced by the “presumption”, established by the Supreme Court in Lassiter, that “an indigent litigant has a right to appointed counsel only when, if he loses, he may be deprived of his physical liberty.” See 452 U.S. at 27. While Mukasey’s decision here has been vacated, it was arguably vacated on other grounds, and it is unclear that a court would necessarily adopt different reasoning as to the distinction between removal proceedings and other proceedings wherein persons have been found to have a Fifth Amendment right to appointed counsel. But see J.E.F.M. v. Holder, 107 F. Supp. 3d 1119 (W.D. Wash. 2015), discussed below.

Rehabilitation Act

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act has also been construed to require the appointment of “qualified representatives”—a term which includes (but is not limited to) legal counsel—for aliens who are “mentally incompetent” to represent themselves in removal proceedings.⁶⁸ Section 504 states, in relevant part, that no “qualified individual with a disability” may “be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination ... under any program or activity conducted by any Executive agency,”⁶⁹ and has been construed to mean that agencies cannot deny qualified individuals with disabilities any “reasonable accommodation” that they might need in order to enjoy meaningful access to the benefits of public services.⁷⁰ As used here, disability includes “a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities of such individual.”⁷¹

In the litigation that gave rise to this finding, Franco-Gonzales v. Holder, the government apparently did not contest that the plaintiffs—who included aliens found incompetent to stand trial for criminal offenses—had established a prima facie case under Section 504.⁷² Instead, the plaintiffs and the government disagreed over whether current statutory and regulatory protections, discussed above, suffice to protect the rights of “mentally incompetent” aliens in removal proceedings⁷³ and, if not, what would constitute a reasonable accommodation.⁷⁴ The court agreed with the plaintiffs that the existing statutory and regulatory protections are inadequate, in part, because “near relatives” or “friends” acting as the alien’s “representatives” cannot be compelled to appear in removal proceedings and are often unable to adequately represent the alien’s interests.⁷⁵ The court also agreed with the plaintiffs that the appointment of “qualified representatives,” either pro bono or at the government’s expense, for the entirety of the immigration proceedings constituted a reasonable accommodation.⁷⁶ In so finding, the court expressly rejected the government’s argument that Section 504 is “only intended to level the playing field and not to provide advantages to the disabled” on the grounds that an

Initially, the court expressly declined to address the merits of the plaintiffs’ claim that due process also requires the appointment of counsel for them. Id. at 1059. However, dicta in a subsequent decision suggest that the court may have viewed the plaintiffs as having a “constitutional right to representation” at the government’s expense. See *Franco-Gonzalez v. accommodation which provides a preference can constitute a “reasonable accommodation” for purposes of the Rehabilitation Act.⁷⁷

In a 2010 decision, the Franco-Gonzales court adopted the plaintiffs’ proposed definition of a qualified representative as a person (1) obligated to provide zealous representation; (2) subject to sanction by the immigration courts for ineffective assistance of counsel; (3) free of any conflicts of interest; (4) having adequate knowledge and information to provide representation at least as competent as that provided by an alien detained pending removal proceedings with ample time, motivation, and access to legal material; and (5) obligated to maintain the confidentiality of information.⁷⁸ However, it did not directly address whether qualified representatives must be attorneys. A subsequent decision, issued in 2011, clarified that qualified representatives can include not only licensed attorneys but also law students or graduates who are directly supervised by retained attorneys and “accredited representatives.”⁷⁹ Accredited representatives are persons employed by certain non-profit religious, charitable, social service, or similar organizations who have been accredited by the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) and are effectively registered to practice before the immigration judges and the BIA.⁸⁰

In 2013, as a result of the Franco-Gonzales litigation, the Departments of Justice and Homeland Security adopted a “nationwide policy” regarding unrepresented immigration detainees with “serious mental disorders or conditions that may render them mentally incompetent to represent themselves in immigration proceedings.” Among other things, this policy calls for procedures that would make qualified representatives available to such individuals.⁸¹

Flores Settlement Agreement & DHS Custody

Flores History

The 1997 Flores Settlement Agreement (Flores) was the result of over a decade of litigation responding to the Immigration and Naturalization Service's (INS) detention policy towards an influx of unaccompanied migrant children in the 1980s.¹ The agreement set national standards regarding the detention, release, and treatment of all children in INS custody. It requires that juveniles be held in the least restrictive setting appropriate to their age and special needs, generally, in a non-secure facility licensed to care for dependent, as opposed to delinquent, minors. It also requires that juveniles be released from custody without unnecessary delay to a parent, legal guardian, adult relative, individual specifically designated by the parent, licensed program, or, alternatively, an adult seeking custody deemed appropriate by the responsible government agency. While Flores initially applied to the INS, today the settlement extends to Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and Health and Human Services' Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) after the INS was dissolved.

Applicability to DHS Custody

Today, migrant children may be in the custody of DHS Customs and Border Protection (CBP) if apprehended at or near a border; in DHS Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) custody if an unaccompanied child (during transport to ORR or home country) or if detained together with a family member in family detention facilities; or in the custody of ORR if an unaccompanied child.

The Flores agreement clearly applies to all children apprehended by DHS, including those held with their parents in DHS family detention facilities or transferred to ORR custody. While plaintiffs consisted of unaccompanied minors taken into custody, the class certified encompassed "all minors who are detained in the legal custody of the INS."² The settlement binds the INS and Department of Justice, as well as "their agents, employees, contractors, and/or successors in office."³ When the Department of Homeland Security was created in 2002, INS authority and responsibilities for immigration custody were transferred to it.⁴ However, immigration custody of unaccompanied alien children was vested with the Director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement of the Department of Health and Human Services, where these responsibilities remain today.⁵ The HSA includes explicit "savings" provisions specifying that the settlement remains in effect as to the new agencies, as if the transfer had not occurred.⁶ The federal government has previously never disputed that the agreement remains binding on both the ORR and DHS.

The broad applicability of Flores to all children, including those held in both DHS and ORR custody, has been formally accepted and acknowledged. For example,

- In re Hutto Family Detention Center, the court acknowledged the application of Flores to family detention and Flores's continued binding scope.⁷
- Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Bill House Reports in the 110th Congress acknowledge that Flores is binding upon DHS, ICE and CBP and that they must enact policies of compliance.⁸
- INS Juvenile Protocol Manual, Juvenile Aliens: A Special Population, provides guidance to ICE agents on Flores and its application to juveniles and indicates how to apply Flores to children not being transferred to ORR.⁹
- The DHS Office of the Inspector General has also documented DHS's obligations to comply with Flores in A Review of DHS Responsibilities to Juvenile Aliens (OIG 2005).¹⁰
- Both the Fiscal Years 2005-2006 and the Fiscal Year 2007 annual reports to Congress on the Department of Homeland Security Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (OCRCL) documented DHS's obligations under Flores to children who are accompanied or unaccompanied and in DHS custody.¹¹

Key Flores Provisions & DHS Noncompliance

ICE's current policy of detaining children apprehended together with their mothers, or, in some cases, fathers – even where they do not pose a flight risk or security risk – is inconsistent with requirements for individualized assessments and best practices to release children from custody where family or community-based sponsors exist. As there is a parent, and primary caregiver, available to take custody and care of the child, DHS should release the mother and the child so that she can resume her primary caregiver role in accordance with the ICE's Parental Interest Directive.¹² Special consideration requirement for the child's unique vulnerability necessitates the release of the mother with the child.

The following analysis provides greater detail of the requirements DHS must meet in order to comply with the terms of the Flores agreement. It also provides an assessment of current compliance with Flores protections for children in DHS custody.

“GENERAL POLICY FAVORING RELEASE”

Flores requires DHS to pursue a policy favoring the release of a child from custody and reunification with family or other community-based sponsor with two narrow exceptions:

Flores exception to release	DHS Noncompliance
1. Where the detention of a particular child is required to secure his or her timely appearance before DHS/HHS or immigration court.	Data shows the vast majority of children appear for their court proceedings, as such accompanied children in family detention should be afforded release opportunities. ¹³
OR 2. Where the continued detention is required to ensure the child's safety or the safety of others.	Research overwhelmingly demonstrates that Central American children in DHS family detention facilities are fleeing human rights abuses and violence and do not pose any safety risk to their families' communities in the U.S. DHS's opposition to bond in these cases are misguided and incorrectly rely on national security arguments. DHS has argued for this national security justification for family detention misapplying the case In re D-J , in which the government argued that reports or rumors of successful entries could encourage further mass migration attempts and thereby endanger national security. ¹⁴ All of these children and families are not “successful entries” as they were apprehended or turned themselves in. Asylum-seeking migrants should never be deterred from seeking safety and punished by being placed in detention simply because other migrants from their country are pursuing their legal right to seek legal protection in another country. Furthermore, given the grave mental and medical health concerns surrounding the detention of children, release together with the parent should be seen as in the best interest of the child unless exceptional circumstances exist.

¹² August 23, 2013, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) issued the Facilitating Parental Interests in the Course of Civil Immigration Enforcement Activities Directive (Parental Interests Directive), available at: http://www.ice.gov/doclib/detention-reform/pdf/parental_interest_directive_signed.pdf

If detention is not required for one or both of the above reasons, then DHS/HHS “shall release” a minor from its custody without unnecessary delay according to the following order of preference (§ 14) (see also 8 CFR 236.3(b)):

1. Parent
2. Legal guardian
3. Adult relative (brother, sister, aunt, uncle or grandparent)
4. An adult individual or entity designated by the parent or legal guardian as capable and willing to care for the minor’s well-being through a declaration.
5. Licensed program willing to accept legal custody
6. An individual or entity willing to accept legal custody.

Flores Terms of Release for children in government custody include:

1. Affidavit of Support I-134 (§ 15)
2. Statement of care: that affirms proper provision for the child, assurance of child’s appearance at future proceedings, notification to INS of a change of address, and 5 days advance notification of departure from the US or initiation of dependency proceedings. (§ 15).
3. Termination of custody arrangement can be made by INS (§ 16).
4. Suitability assessment: may be required prior to the release of a minor (§ 17).
5. Family reunification efforts must continue for the duration of custody if a minor “is not immediately released to a relative” (§ 18).

There are effective procedures in place to ensure that children are released safely: DHS and DOJ have assurance of the child’s location, notice, and compliance with appearance in court.

RIGHTS OF CHILDREN IN DHS CUSTODY

Migrant children in DHS custody usually are first apprehended and placed in CBP short-term holding cells. If they are unaccompanied they are then transferred by ICE to ORR within the Flores 72-hour requirement (absent an emergency or unexpected influx of children). ICE may use some of their juvenile facilities during transportation to various ORR facilities. Children apprehended parents are typically not placed with the child welfare agency ORR. In the past DHS complied with Flores to the extent the agency considered children’s special vulnerabilities and the 72-hour requirement, and prioritized apprehended families for release or alternatives to detention pending their removal proceedings. Instead, DHS has created new ICE family detention facilities to incarcerate children apprehended with their mothers (and in some cases their fathers).

Rights of the Child in Short-Term Custody

Numerous research reports, human rights organizations and attorneys have documented systemic abuse by CBP, including violations of rights afforded to migrant children.¹⁵

¹⁵ See e.g., Betsy Cavendish and Maru Cortazar, Children at the Border (Appleseed Network, 2011)(reporting on a 2 year investigation documenting failed TVPRA screening by CBP and the need for child appropriate interviewing by qualified professionals); UNHCR, Findings and Recommendations Relating to the 2012-2013 Missions to Monitor the Protection Screening of Mexican Unaccompanied Children Along the U.S.-Mexico Border (June 2014); Marc Rosenblum, Statement: Measuring Border Security: Hearing on the U.S. Border Patrol’s New Strategic Plan and the Path Forward Before the House Subcommittee on Border and Maritime Security, 112th Congress (2012); U.S. Government Accountability Office, Border Patrol Strategy: Progress and Challenges in Implementation and Assessment Efforts, No. 12-888T (May 8, 2012).

Per the Flores Settlement, children in CBP short-term custody are entitled to the following rights:

Flores Requirement	CBP Compliance
¶ 12: Safe and sanitary facilities with: toilets, sinks, drinking water, food, medical assistance in case of emergency services, adequate temperature control and ventilation, adequate supervision to protect minors, and contact with family members who were arrested with the minor.	Numerous complaints have been filed by unaccompanied and accompanied children and their families on CBP violations relating to these issues.¹⁶
¶ 12: Segregation of minors from unrelated adults	CBP has improved in segregating minors from unrelated adults, however, CBP does routinely separate related children from their parents or adult family members.
¶ 11: Least restrictive setting appropriate to the child's age and special needs.	CBP hold rooms are not appropriate for children, instead children are routinely placed in the most restrictive setting- secure hold rooms without any child appropriate accommodations.
¶ 11: Treatment with dignity, respect and special concern for their particular vulnerability as children.	Children in CBP custody are cared for by CBP enforcement agents rather than individuals with specific child welfare expertise; their treatment can range from special consideration to abusive treatment.
¶ 24D: Right to notice of rights (Form I-770) (see also 8 CFR 236.3(h))	CBP routinely only has a copy of the English, not Spanish, version of this form. This form is also often inadequately explained to children.

Rights of the Child while in Long-Term ICE Custody

Children held with their mothers in ICE custody (family detention) are not guaranteed the rights outlined in the Flores Settlement Agreement. However, in ICE facilities that hold children alone ICE/Juvenile Family Residential Management Unit (JFMRU) has also complied with appropriately transferring unaccompanied children to ORR and using a spectrum of facilities and not just the most restrictive facilities for short term custody pending transfer or deportation.¹⁷ The below section describes ICE's compliance with Flores requirements in family detention settings (focusing on recent facilities).

Per the Flores Settlement, children in DHS/ICE family detention are entitled to these rights:

Flores Requirement	ICE Compliance
¶ 14 (see Policy Favoring Release): If there is no one to release minor to, then DHS may place a child temporarily in a licensed program (state agency the licenses custodial programs for dependent children) until release can be effectuated. An exception exists for licensure in cases of emergencies or influxes, but reunification and release efforts must continue.	ICE does not follow this policy favoring release. Children instead remain in ICE custody and ICE fails to conduct reunification efforts. ICE also fails to obtain state child welfare licensing for family detention facilities.

Subsequently in August of 2010, the Women's Refugee Commission revisited the Berks Juvenile Facility and found it in improved compliance with Flores in comparison to the conditions reported in the Halfway Home report (Visits conducted by Michelle Brane, Katharina Obser, Jessica Jones). JFMRU has also complied with using a spectrum of facilities and not just the most restrictive facilities.

¶ 11: Least restrictive setting appropriate to the minor's age and special needs	ICE detains children apprehended with their mothers in secure facilities that are not licensed by an appropriate state agency and that are not the least restrictive setting appropriate to children's age and special needs.
¶ 11: Treatment with dignity, respect and special concern for their particular vulnerability as children	Experts have identified a systemic failure in the detention facilities to address the needs of children.¹⁸
¶ 24D: Right to notice of rights (Form I-770), right to judicial review (Exhibit 6), and list of free legal services providers (See also 8 CFR 236.3 (h))	Children are not provided with any notice or rights information. (This information is usually only provided to the parent).
¶ 24A: Right to bond redetermination proceeding before an Immigration Judge	Currently, ICE is implementing a 'no bond' or 'high bond' policy for families, often enforcing a 'not bond eligible' policy without individual considerations.¹⁹
¶ 24B: Right to judicial review in order to contest placement "in a particular facility" before a federal district court if a child believes they have been improperly placed or have been treated improperly	ICE is not complying with this Flores requirement.
¶ 24B Exhibit 6: Right to notice of judicial review posted in facilities	ICE is not complying with this Flores requirement.
¶ 12: Right to separation from unrelated adults	The nature of a family detention facility makes this impracticable and impossible for ICE to keep children separated from unrelated adults.
Definition 6, ¶¶ 19 and 24C: Right to a placement in a state licensed child welfare facility	ICE mistakenly applies the exception to the 72 hour transfer or release requirement during influxes and emergencies to mean they do not have to have a licensed facility at all. While ORR complies with this requirement for unaccompanied children, ICE has failed to get its facility licensed. Even if ICE did seek licensure, it is doubtful whether the facilities would even comply with state regulations on licensing facilities for children during emergencies or non-emergencies.
Minimum Standards for Licensed Programs (FSA, Exhibit 1)
¶ 1: Proper physical care and maintenance, suitable living conditions, food, appropriate clothing, and personal grooming items	Children are held in restrictive, jail-like settings with little privacy and lack of culturally appropriate food, often leading to weight loss in children.²⁰
¶ 2: Appropriate medical and dental care	Most children are either unable to access medical services or have a lack of adequate treatment.²¹
¶ 3: Individualized needs assessments (includes psycho-social, educational and family reunification resources).	Children do not receive these psycho-social and educational assessments. Nor do they receive any family reunification screening.
¶ 4: educational services in a classroom setting (Monday through Friday) focusing on academic competencies and English Language Training	Education is limited at all recent facilities. For example, school only started at Artesia in October 2014 and none of the recent facilities have full-time, licensed education for children.²²
¶ 5: Recreation and leisure time, including outdoor recreation	In the recent facilities, children have inadequate opportunities for outdoor recreation time and reports indicate they are not allowed toys or playthings in their living quarters.²³

¶¶ 6, 7: One individual counseling session per week by trained social work staff and group counseling at least twice a week	Children are not guaranteed counseling or mental health services. Most detention facilities have severely limited resources. One facility had psychiatric services only through video tele-conferencing or only male service providers.²⁴
¶ 8: Acculturation and adaptation services	ICE does not provide such services.
¶ 9: Comprehensive orientation	Children are not included in either the 'Know Your Rights' presentations or Legal Orientation Programs. Where these programs exist at family detention facilities, they are not adapted to children's particular needs.²⁵
¶ 10: Access to religious services	Children do not have access to religious services.
¶ 11: Visitation and contact with family members	Children have inadequate visitation access and lack of contact with family members who may be looking for them.²⁶
¶ 12: Right to privacy (This includes the right to: a) wear own clothes, b) private space for storage of belongings, c) private conversations on phone, d) private visitation, e) receive and send uncensored mail)	While ICE is complying with the first two, they routinely fail to provide privacy for private conversations for children, visitation, and uncensored mail. Children do not even have privacy when meeting with their attorneys.²⁷
¶13: Family reunification services	ICE seeks to keep children with their mothers in detention and does not permit family reunification²⁸
¶ 14: Legal services	Many children in family detention have an independent claim to asylum however lack resources to know their rights and lack access to legal representation.²⁹ Also, ICE has deported many families without proper hearings before an immigration judge, denying children due process.

Harvey Aid Tops Post-Recess TO-Do List: What To Watch This Week

By James Rowley | September 5, 2017 8:48AM ET

Rushing more disaster aid to the flood-ravaged Gulf Coast is Job No. 1 for lawmakers returning from their August recess as Congress begins a legislative flurry aimed at avoiding a government shutdown and a default on U.S. debt.

Besides considering President Donald Trump's request for a down payment to help Texas and Louisiana begin to clear the devastation caused by Hurricane Harvey, the House is to consider a package of eight spending bills for fiscal 2018, which starts Oct. 1.

Republican leaders intend to graft the new package onto the "minibus" of four bills (H.R. 3219) that the House passed in July to create a full 12-bill appropriations omnibus, according to a Republican leadership aide.

That measure has no chance of overcoming a Democratic filibuster in the Senate, so the House's spending debate is a merely prelude for action later this month on a continuing resolution to avert a government shutdown at month's end and finance federal agency operations until sometime in early December, the aide said.

Passage of a CR would postpone until late fall the partisan fights over Trump's demand to spend $1.6 billion to start building a wall along U.S.-Mexico border and Democrats' insistence on parity for discretionary spending increases between defense and other domestic programs.

The hurricane-recovery package will include $7.4 billion for the Federal Emergency Management Agency and $450 million for the Small Business Administration, Budget Director Mick Mulvaney wrote in a letter to House Speaker Paul Ryan. The request would fund relief through Sept. 30.

Trump has invited congressional leaders to the White House tomorrow to confer on the Harvey aid package and other pressing issues as Congress returns from the August recess.

DYNAMIC TO WATCH: With just 12 days when both the House and Senate are in session this month, Congress needs to move quickly to meet the Sept. 30 deadline to extending government funding and the Treasury's authority to continue borrowing money. Failure to agree on legislation risks the double whammy of a government shutdown and a default on debt owed by the Treasury.

The most conservative House Republicans want to condition raising the debt ceiling on spending offsets, so House Speaker Paul Ryan (R-Wis.) and other leaders must decide now to sequence and package the various pieces of must-pass legislation.

NDA: Senate Armed Services Chairman John McCain (R-Ariz.), who plans to return to Washington this week after undergoing treatment for brain cancer, will manage the defense authorization bill in floor debate that Republican leadership aides say is set to start tomorrow. Look for wrangling over Trump's order banning transgender people from serving in the U.S. military, the president's strategy for sending more troops to Afghanistan, and how to deal with North Korea's nuclear provocations.

IMMIGRATION: Trump's tossing the ball back into Congress's court on the status of undocumented young immigrants who were brought to the U.S. as children. The formal announcement's coming today on the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or DACA, program that allowed youths to avoid deportation.

OBAMACARE: Governors and state insurance commissioners are scheduled to testify at Senate hearings on how to stabilize the operation of Obamacare health-insurance exchanges now that Republicans have abandoned their efforts to repeal the Affordable Care Act. A bipartisan group of governors led by Republican John Kasich of Ohio, has asked Congress to approve cost-sharing payments to insurers to curb the rise in premiums on the individual market.

GOP Faces Pileup of Urgent Tasks Topped by Debt Limit Extension

By Anna Edgerton | September 5, 2017 4:00AM ET

Republicans return to Washington Tuesday with less than a month to avoid a government shutdown and avert a default on the nation's debt, tasks that are being overshadowed by the quickly mounting costs of the response to Hurricane Harvey.

Lawmakers need to pass a measure by Sept. 30 to fund the government, as well as one raising the debt limit before the end of the month. They also need to reauthorize programs like flood insurance and air traffic control and provide money for flood victims in Texas before they can turn to their top objective for the year -- a major tax overhaul.

There isn't much time. The House is scheduled to be in session for only 12 legislative days this month and the Senate for 17 -- giving the majority party little margin for error on measures they will need to negotiate with Democrats.

There is already widespread bipartisan agreement on the need to fund disaster relief programs for Harvey. The White House has asked for nearly $8 billion in emergency aid, which the House is expected to vote on this week. Officials also signaled that President Donald Trump won't press his demands to fund a wall on the U.S.-Mexico border this month, a measure opposed by Democrats.

But other controversial executive actions on topics such as immigration could still disrupt bipartisan agreements.

How Republicans resolve these issues could influence the outcome of next year's congressional elections. If little is accomplished or the government is forced to shut down, Democrats will argue that the GOP can't get anything done, despite controlling all branches of government. If Republicans can get through the month without too much drama, they can turn more quickly to their promised tax overhaul.

House Speaker Paul Ryan of Wisconsin and Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell of Kentucky have difficult tasks ahead as they contend with warring factions in their own party and a president who won't hesitate to criticize them. They'll also have to negotiate with Democrats who strongly oppose their biggest priorities.

"It's hard enough when you're working all together," said Muftiah McCartin, a former staff director of the House Rules Committee who now co-chairs government affairs at the law firm Covington & Burling LLP. "They are grownups in the room trying to hold it all together," she said of Ryan and McConnell.

Republican and Democratic congressional leaders will meet with Trump at the White House Wednesday to discuss this month's agenda.

Their first order of business will be an emergency funding measure for Harvey. The White House requested $7.4 billion for the Federal Emergency Management Agency's operations and $450 million for the Small Business Administration. The request is intended to cover funding demands through the end of the fiscal year on Sept. 30. The House has already drafted a measure and is expected to send it to the Senate this week.

The White House has suggested that lawmakers attach a debt ceiling measure to the Harvey bill, but the request stopped short of explicitly asking for that. Instead, White House budget director Mick Mulvaney suggested that relief operations could be disrupted if the debt limit isn't addressed quickly.

"If the debt ceiling is not raised, it may not be possible to outlay the requested supplemental appropriations or funds for other critical government operations," he wrote Friday night in a letter to Ryan.

It's unclear whether Republican lawmakers will go along with the idea of pairing the two measures. The Senate could add a debt ceiling provision to the Harvey bill after the House passes it, but House conservatives have demanded spending cuts or other cost-cutting changes in return for raising the debt limit.

Representative Mark Walker of North Carolina, who heads the conservative Republican Study Committee, on Monday said his stance hasn't changed.

"As we have stated for months, the debt ceiling should be paired with significant fiscal and structural reforms," Walker said in a statement. "If we resort to just kicking the can down the road on the debt, it only shows that Republicans do not take the problem of our $20 trillion debt seriously."

Republicans also need to pass a stopgap spending measure, which will likely extend current funding levels for a few months. Trump had threatened a shutdown fight over his border wall this month, but White House aides have signaled to Congress that he plans to delay that battle until lawmakers debate a fuller spending measure later in the year.

In some ways, the most urgent challenge will be preventing the government from defaulting on its obligations. Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin told Congress that it's "critical" to raise the debt ceiling by Sept. 29.

Conservatives in the past have opposed measures to allow the government to borrow more and may object if the debt limit is combined with other legislation. This week, they'll present Ryan with options that could win more GOP votes, including a bill to prioritize debt payments over other government expenses should the debt limit be breached.

"When it comes to raising the debt ceiling, it's my hope as a conservative that that would be packaged with significant spending reforms and other reforms that would address a $20 trillion national debt," said Jim Banks, an Indiana Republican. "Unfortunately, I haven't heard enough of a serious discussion -- neither from the administration nor from Republicans -- about how we'll do that."

Even staunch conservatives, such as David Schweikert and Trent Franks, both from Arizona and members of the far-right Freedom Caucus, have demonstrated a willingness to work within the constraints of the moment.

"I understand the reality and I'm not going to be intractable on recognizing leadership's realities," Franks said of this month's urgent bills.

If a debt limit provision isn't added to the Harvey bill, GOP leader could add it to the stopgap spending bill, which is also likely to contain necessary extensions for other expiring programs like federal flood insurance and the Federal Aviation Administration.

John Yarmuth of Kentucky, the highest ranking Democrat on the House Budget Committee, said Harvey's devastation has sapped both parties' appetite for a showdown over must-pass bills like the debt limit.

"There's a good chance that Harvey makes all that a little easier," Yarmuth said. "There's a reasonable chance that there's not going to be nearly as much angst in September as we would have thought a month ago."

Yarmuth said appropriating money for cost-sharing subsidies for Obamacare, which Democrats considered demanding, will probably be left out of the discussion.

Democrats could still disrupt this month's legislative agenda if Trump phases out a program that provides some protection from deportation for undocumented immigrants brought to the U.S. as children. Trump is planning to terminate the Obama-era program, but delay the end for several months to give Congress time to act, an administration official said.

Another potential complication for September is the unresolved future of the Affordable Care Act after a Republican plan to repeal and replace the law failed in the Senate. If GOP leaders want to try again, they'll need to act this month as a legislative tactic they've used to try to win passage in the Senate will expire on Sept. 30. After that, Republicans would need to seek Democratic support.

And the clock is ticking on a Republican plan to overhaul the U.S. tax code. They'll take their first concrete step with a budget resolution that will allow them to get the overhaul through the Senate with a 51-vote majority.

Although the budget doesn't technically need a floor vote this month, every week that goes by makes it harder to meet the goal of tax code changes by the end of the year. GOP lawmakers warn that failing to pass tax legislation or other Republican priorities could cost the party its congressional majority.

"It's the party. It's the Republican brand," Representative Dave Brat of Virginia. "If the Republican party can't pass health care, can't pass tax reform, can't be fiscally responsible what are we?"

Refugee Resettlement

Refugee vetting does the job (featuring ACF)

Refugees are among the most vulnerable people on the planet. Yet Gov. Henry McMaster has asked that South Carolina not be required to accept refugees from several of the world’s most troubled nations — those involved in President Donald Trump’s stringent travel ban imposed earlier this year and still tied up in courts. To date, not a single fatal attack in the United States appears to have been committed by a refugee from the Middle East. In short, Mr. McMaster and Mr. Trump’s fears are misplaced. AUSTIN, Texas — The American Civil Liberties Union is suing the the HHS office responsible for the care of undocumented minors to release an undocumented 10-year girl with cerebral palsy, who was detained by immigration officials after gallbladder surgery last week.

The suit against the Office of Refugee Resettlement, filed in U.S. District Court in the Western District of Texas, comes a week after the ACLU won a separate suit against the agency to allow an undocumented pregnant teen in a federally-funded shelter to get an abortion.

According to new suit, Rosa Maria Hernandez, who moved to Texas with her parents from Mexico when she was three months old, was detained at a checkpoint on her way to a children's hospital in Corpus Christi from her home in Laredo.

Agents followed her to the hospital. When Hernandez was released after surgery, she was detained and placed in a federally-funded shelter for undocumented minors in San Antonio, against the advice of her doctors.

The girl, who has the cognitive development of a six-year-old, is currently being processed for deportation, even though her grandfather is a legal permanent resident, according to the filing.

In addition to Scott Lloyd, head of the ORR, the suit also lists as defendants HHS acting Secretary Eric Hargan, acting DHS Secretary Elaine Duke, border patrol agents in Texas and executives at the San Antonio shelter where the girl is being detained.

DHS has been stepping up enforcement actions at sensitive locations such as hospitals, health clinics and doctors' offices. Yesterday the American Academy of Pediatrics and its Texas chapter wrote a letter asking DHS to halt the practice.

MEMORANDUM

To: Whom It May Concern

From: Kenneth Tota
Acting Director, Office of Refugee Resettlement

Date: March 4, 2017

Re: ORR custodial decisions to preserve the health of a pregnant UAC

Under section 462 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 and section 235 of the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008, the Department of Health and Human Services, through the Director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR), is entrusted with the care and custody of unaccompanied alien children in the United States. This means that the Director of ORR is empowered by Congress to make all medical decisions for the unaccompanied alien child (UAC) in place of the child's parents.

As set forth in the March 21, 2008 memorandum, "Medical Services Requiring Heightened ORR Involvement" (attached here), serious medical services, including significant surgical or medical procedures, abortions (whether surgical or medical), and services that may threaten the life of a UAC, require heightened ORR involvement and limited decision-making by grantees. With the exception of emergency medical situations, when a UAC may be involved in an abortion, grantees must immediately inform the director of the Division of Unaccompanied Children's Services (DUCS or DCS) in ORR of the situation, must respond to DUCS' requests for information, and are prohibited from taking any action that facilitates an abortion without direction and approval from the Director of ORR.

ORR has received information that on Friday afternoon, March 3, 2017, an unaccompanied alien child at ORR grantee Southwest Key Casa Blanca began but did not complete the process of an abortion administered by a series of medications. The medication abortion protocol proceeded against the recommendation of ORR medical officers. As of Saturday morning, March 4, 2017, the health status of the UAC's unborn child is undetermined. The abortion protocol involves a second medication to be administered before Sunday afternoon, March 5, 2017.

This memorandum directs ORR to bring the UAC to the emergency room of a local hospital in order to determine the health status of the UAC and her unborn child. If steps can be taken to preserve the life of the UAC and her unborn child, those steps should be taken. If it is confirmed that the unborn child has already expired due to the beginning of the abortion procedure, steps can be taken to safely remove the body of the unborn child. In any event, the health and safety of the UAC must be preserved.

2. The request asked that the search use the following search terms
 - “pregnancy”
 - “pregnant”
 - “ORR director”
 - “abortion”
 - “ru-486”

¹ The request also sought emails to, from and carbon copying Maggie Wynne and Dr. David Teuscher. However, ACF advised Equity Forward that these individuals work for at the department level and the Office of the Secretary Division of FOI/Privacy has jurisdiction over those records.

- “CPC”

Your request was sent to the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) and the Office of the Chief Information Officer for a search for responsive records. The Office of the Chief Information Officer performed the search and provided 159,000 pages of responsive records.

Following extensive negotiations between the parties, it was agreed that ACF would begin its production by disclosing emails without attachments, after which Equity Forward would choose the attachments it wished to receive.

Accordingly, please find enclosed 694 pages of responsive records. Eighty-nine (89) additional pages were forwarded to the Office of the Secretary (OS), Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and to other federal agencies for consultation on those pages that originated within those offices.

Some of the information on the disclosed pages has been withheld under the FOIA exemptions (b)(5) and (b)(6). The exemption (b)(5) protects inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency. The exemption protects agency deliberations, both internal and with agency contractors and consultants, attorney-client privileged records and attorney work product. In this case, the withheld information includes pre-decisional discussions within the agency and between agency staff and contractors about management of the program and individual children, sensitive communications between agency staff seeking legal advice and counsel on policy and other matters and documentation of attorney thoughts and work in anticipation of litigation.

The FOIA exemption (b)(6) permits the withholding of records which, if released, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. In this case, the withheld information consists of the identities and/or other private information of private individuals and the work cell phones of federal employees. Public disclosure of this information would constitute an invasion of privacy of those individuals whose identifying information was disclosed. In withholding the information, the individual's privacy interest was balanced against any public interest in disclosure. In each instance where information was withheld, it was determined that the individual's privacy interests outweighed any public interest in disclosure of the withheld information. Disclosure of the withheld information would invade the privacy of the subject individuals but would reveal nothing about the operations or activities of the government.

Sincerely yours,

Carla C.

Hello (b)(6)

Thank you for the updates on UC A# (b)(6). I hope baby and mother are doing well. A reminder to begin the baby's Medicaid application as soon as possible if you haven't already.

In reviewing the record, I see there are a number of Medical Complaints that should be documented as 'an update visit' under the pregnancy dx. Please re-enter any visit related to the (b)(6) pregnancy dx through the 'Add an Update Visit' function under the IME section. Any well-visit for immunizations, or a condition not related to pregnancy, can remain as a new Medical Complaint.

Please review the attached documentation for detailed guidance. Then complete the attached form and contact uachelpdesk@ap-in.com to delete the repeat entries.

Do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions, or need assistance.

Best,

Importance: High

Good afternoon, Upbring -

As you may be aware, a minor with varicella and another exposed minor will be placed at your program. Please confirm receipt of this message and see follow-up steps below:

For the minor with varicella (UC (b)(6)):

- 1) Isolate her upon arrival; she should remain isolated until their lesions have crusted over
- 2) Please let us know ASAP if she is pregnant
- 3) Enter her varicella diagnoses in the Health Tab of the UAC Portal

For the exposed minor (UC (b)(6)):

1. Because we are unsure of the initial date of exposure, please: quarantine the minor; collect a blood specimen for varicella IgG testing; and vaccinate the minor
2. Let us know as soon as possible if the minor cannot be vaccinated against varicella
3. Please make sure to enter this information into the UAC Portal Health Tab under contact investigation (see attached)

We're happy to consult further if you have questions. Thanks much, Lara

Good Afternoon, Dr. Meyerstein.

Regarding your question, at times we are asked about exposure for illnesses other than varicella. As many of our program leaders are Cc'd on isolation request emails, it is our intent to share all relative information at the same time. Information provided helps determine appropriate housing and campus movement and aids us in our efforts to prevent the spread of disease at our program sites.

Scott,

In the email you indicated "no exposure to pregnant UC's, immunocompromised or infants etc..."
 The request for isolation fever/strep is approved, but just want to make sure that this minor doesn't have varicella since this is the typical message (no exposure....etc) that is sent when we are looking at possible varicella exposures? I didn't see anything in the portal record that would suggest that but just wanted to make sure.

Subject: FW: Clarification about Heightened Medical Services

Dear Care Providers,

As you know, the ORR Director provided a reminder about the 2008 Heightened Medical Services policy last Friday. The email was intended to reinforce the policy concerning pregnancy terminations, including the requirement for written authorization by the ORR Director. The email was not intended to focus on other significant medical procedures or medical costs.

Care providers should continue to use the Serious Medical Request (SMR) guidance and form for non-emergent serious medical procedures and services. These include: procedures requiring general anesthesia, surgeries, and invasive diagnostic procedures (e.g., cardiac catheterization, invasive biopsy, amniocentesis). The SMR submission guidance remains the same.

Questions related to medical procedures requiring SMR processing can be directed to DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov. Other questions about this policy can be directed to ucpolicy@acf.hhs.gov.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

Good Afternoon,

Our program only serves pregnant and parenting moms with their children. Per OB/GYN orders our pregnant residents are currently no travel at the 36 week of pregnancy. Earlier holds on travel are made on a case by case basis. After the birth, both mom and baby are no travel pending medical clearance.

Is the notification below needed for each case?

Subject: Wellness Wednesday: Delayed Releases

FYI: The following email was sent to all programs, as well.

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Wellness Wednesday covers delayed releases for health reasons.

Q: Can a child's release from an ORR care provider program be delayed for a health reason?

A: Yes, an unaccompanied child's release to a sponsor may be delayed for health care under certain circumstances.

Q: Who should be notified if a child's release might be delayed because of a health reason?

A: The care provider or program should notify the Division of Health for Unaccompanied Children (DHUC) at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov and the program's FFS when the child is ready for release, but it is felt that the Release Request form cannot be submitted for review because of a health need. Examples of healthcare needs include waiting for a specialty or follow-up visit, obtaining medical clearance for travel, and pending lab results.

Q: Who makes the final determination that release should be delayed for a health reason?

A: DHUC will determine whether a child's release should be delayed for medical, dental, or psychiatric reasons on a case-by-case basis by assessing multiple factors.

Q: What factors are considered by DHUC for delayed release of a child?

A: The primary factors are urgency of the condition and threat to public health.

- Urgency of the condition: The need for an early intervention to relieve distress or to prevent progression of illnesses or conditions that if left untended could reasonably be expected to threaten the child's life or livelihood before he or she reaches adulthood.
- Threat to public health: A child who has a condition that threatens public health will be held in custody until the problem is resolved. In the typical instance, this refers to a contagious disease that requires treatment or isolation until it is noncontagious.

Secondary factors taken into consideration include, but are not limited to, the child's relation to the sponsor, access to specialty care and health insurance in the sponsor's community, continuity of care for completion of treatment that has already started, the extent of delay, and pre-existing conditions. Referral to a specialist alone may not be an approved reason for delay. The underlying problem and the constellation of findings will factor into the decision.

Q: What does DHUC require to make a decision on delaying release?

A: DHUC will need to review the Portal records; please ensure everything, including medical reports and laboratory results, is recorded correctly in the Portal. In addition, DHUC may request additional examinations or consultations for the child on a case-by-case basis.

Q: What are some examples of requests for delayed release that will not be approved?

A: In the following examples, release should not be delayed:

- 1) Child has a history of a seizure disorder in home country, may or may not be taking medication, has been seizure free for the last year, and is now waiting to see a neurologist.
- 2) Child sustained extremity injury during the journey from country of origin, was seen by orthopedics, and was told to follow up in 6 weeks.
- 3) Child reported suicidal ideations and was seen in ER for mental health evaluation. In the assessment, the risk is determined to be minimal. The child is discharged back to program and told to follow up with psychiatrist, but no appointment is available for 6 weeks.
- 4) Child has developed coughing and congestion, has no fever, and is well-appearing.
- 5) Child has been diagnosed with strep throat, has been on antibiotics for 24hrs and is afebrile.

Q: What steps should be taken to ensure that further care for children is received after release, when needed?

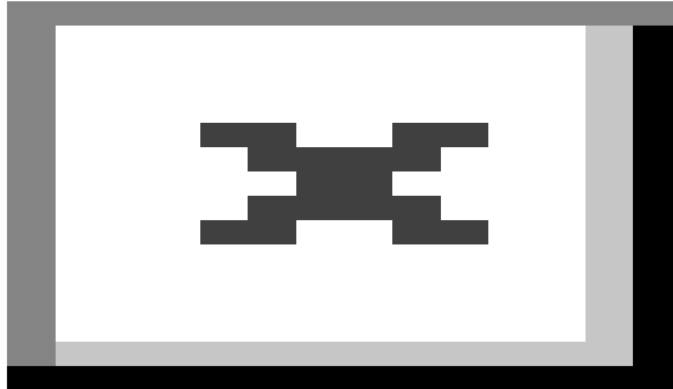

A: DHUC can facilitate continuity of care in the sponsor's community when necessary.

Q: After DHUC approves a delayed release, how should I document the delayed release in the Portal?

A: Complete the field, “Release of child from the program delayed because of this diagnosis” on the Case Wrap-Up panel for each selected diagnosis. Select Yes if the child’s release was delayed because of the final/discharge diagnosis selected in this Case Wrap-Up panel (an automated notification will be sent to DHUC); select No if not. If the child’s release was delayed because of another final/discharge diagnosis, the user should select Yes on the Case Wrap-Up panel associated with that diagnosis. For example, if a child is diagnosed with gastroenteritis and varicella and release is delayed because of the varicella, select No for this question in the gastroenteritis Case Wrap-Up panel and Yes in the varicella Case Wrap-Up panel.

NOTE: Only select Yes if the Release Request Form is ready to be submitted at the time the child was diagnosed with the condition.

While I can certainly appreciate the unique population of minors in your care and how the delayed release guidance we sent out would impact many of the UC's at the shelter and ultimately extra work on the portal, we would still appreciate and require a notification for each case.

Subject: Wellness Wednesday: Delayed Releases

FYI: The following email was sent to all programs, as well.

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Wellness Wednesday covers delayed releases for health reasons.

Q: Can a child's release from an ORR care provider program be delayed for a health reason?

A: Yes, an unaccompanied child's release to a sponsor may be delayed for health care under certain circumstances.

Q: Who should be notified if a child's release might be delayed because of a health reason?

A: The care provider or program should notify the Division of Health for Unaccompanied Children (DHUC) at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov and the program's FFS when the child is ready for release, but it is felt that the Release Request form cannot be submitted for review because of a health need. Examples of healthcare needs include waiting for a specialty or follow-up visit, obtaining medical clearance for travel, and pending lab results.

Q: Who makes the final determination that release should be delayed for a health reason?

A: DHUC will determine whether a child's release should be delayed for medical, dental, or psychiatric reasons on a case-by-case basis by assessing multiple factors.

Child has a history of a seizure disorder in home country, may or may not be taking medication, has been seizure free for the last year, and is now waiting to see a neurologist.
- 2)

Q: After DHUC approves a delayed release, how should I document the delayed release in the Portal?

A: Complete the field, "Release of child from the program delayed because of this diagnosis" on the Case Wrap-Up panel for each selected diagnosis. Select Yes if the child's release was delayed because of the final/discharge diagnosis selected in this Case Wrap-Up panel (an automated notification will be sent to DHUC); select No if not. If the child's release was delayed because of another final/discharge diagnosis, the user should select Yes on the Case Wrap-Up panel associated with that diagnosis. For example, if a child is diagnosed with gastroenteritis and varicella and release is delayed because of the varicella, select No for this question in the gastroenteritis Case Wrap-Up panel and Yes in the varicella Case Wrap-Up panel.

NOTE: Only select Yes if the Release Request Form is ready to be submitted at the time the child was diagnosed with the condition.

Importance: High

Good afternoon, Upbring -

As you may be aware, a minor with varicella and another exposed minor will be placed at your program. Please confirm receipt of this message and see follow-up steps below:

For the minor with varicella (UC (b)(6) (b)(6)):

- 1) Isolate her upon arrival; she should remain isolated until their lesions have crusted over
- 2) Please let us know ASAP if she is pregnant

- 3) Enter her varicella diagnoses in the Health Tab of the UAC Portal

For the exposed minor (UC (b)(6) (b)(6)):

1. Because we are unsure of the initial date of exposure, please: quarantine the minor; collect a blood specimen for varicella IgG testing; and vaccinate the minor
2. Let us know as soon as possible if the minor cannot be vaccinated against varicella
3. Please make sure to enter this information into the UAC Portal Health Tab under contact investigation (see attached)

We're happy to consult further if you have questions. Thanks much, Lara

Subject:	Health Tab Tips - Entering Contact Investigation Information on Exposed Contacts, Part 2
Date:	2016/06/09 16:37:23
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Hello Colleagues,

When a child has been exposed to an infectious disease such as varicella, a Contact Investigation form must be completed in the Health tab – please do NOT enter the exposure as a Medical Complaint or in the Initial Medical Exam report. A Medical Complaint report should only be entered on an exposed contact if s/he develops the disease.

The Contact Investigation form can be entered in one of two ways and differs based on the scenario:

- a) If the exposed child(ren) and the child diagnosed with the infectious disease are both in care at your program, enter the Contact Investigation form through the "Illness of Public Health Concern" panel on the case's record. See the attached Health Tab Tip sent 4/26/2016 for detailed guidance.
- b) If the child was exposed to an individual with an infectious disease outside the program (e.g., Border Patrol station) or from a staff member in your program, enter a Contact Investigation form directly from the contact's UAC Health screen (see Steps below). NOTE: The ORR Medical Team or Intakes often notifies programs when a child in your care was exposed to an infectious disease before arrival to your program (e.g., child was exposed during transport to your program).

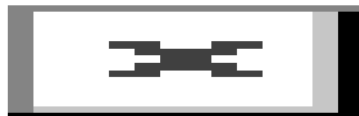

Steps (applies only to scenario b above):

- 1) Click on the + sign to expand the Contact Investigations form section and click on the Add New button:

cid:image001.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- 2) Select the disease to which the child was exposed from the dropdown. Click on Next to open the Contact Investigation form:

cid:image002.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- 3) Complete the form. Indicate the interventions taken because of the exposure (e.g., vaccinations, tests, quarantine). Specify the outcome of the contact investigation by selecting:
 - Pending if a test has been performed but the results are not yet back. It is important to remember to update the Outcome status when the contact investigation has been completed by the program/ORR.

- Incomplete evaluation if the child was asymptomatic while in ORR care but was subsequently lost to follow-up (e.g., discharged from ORR custody) prior to the end of the incubation period for the illness.
- Cleared if 1) the child was observed for the entire incubation period in ORR custody and no signs/symptoms developed that were consistent with the illness to which the contact was exposed or, 2) the child was vaccinated in the appropriate timeframe post-exposure (for varicella and hepatitis A only), or 3) serology testing demonstrated the child was immune (e.g., IgG +).
- Diagnosed with illness if the child developed signs/symptoms of the illness of concern and was diagnosed with the illness to which the contact was exposed. A Medical Complaint must also be entered to capture the diagnosis.

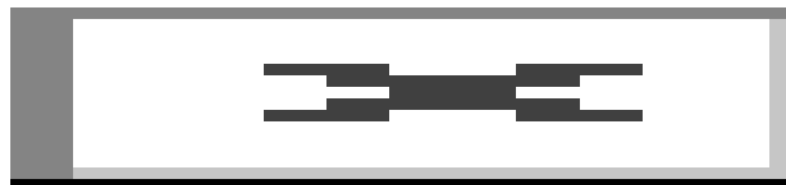

NOTE: The options are slightly different for contacts of an active or suspect TB case. Please refer to the 'UAC Portal User Guide – Medical Module' (page 91) on the main menu of the UAC Portal for further information.

The following screenshot is an example of a Contact Investigation form entered on a contact of a varicella case at the Border Patrol station:

cid:image003.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- 4) Back on the UAC Health screen, the entered Contact Investigation form will display. Click on the Edit icon in the Options column to update results or make corrections.

Subject:	Health Tab Tips - Entering Contact Investigation Information on Exposed Contacts
Date:	2016/04/26 16:51:12
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

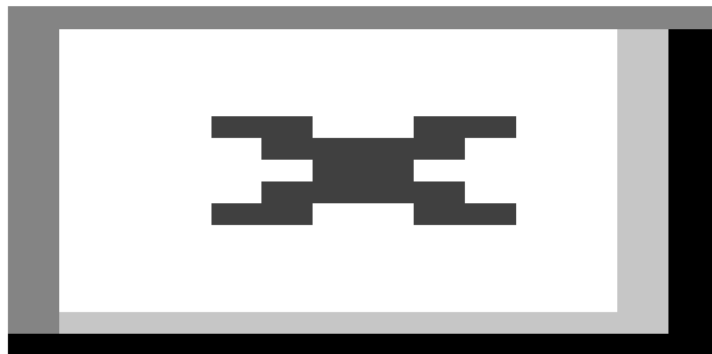

Today's "Health Tab Tip" (named changed from "Medical Module Monday" since we will eventually be covering mental health and dental reports as well) will cover entering information on children exposed to a reportable infectious disease into the Medical Module. There are several diseases (e.g., active TB, varicella) that may require a contact investigation to be performed if a child was infectious while in ORR care. After the final diagnosis has been entered into the Case Wrap-Up panel, the disease-specific Illness of Public Health Concern panel will be automatically added to the report. NOTE: This Health Tab Tip pertains to scenarios where the child with the reportable infectious disease is in care at the same program as the exposed contacts.

We've noticed that many programs have not been entering info on exposed contacts to varicella cases in the Medical Module as required, so we will be using varicella in this example.

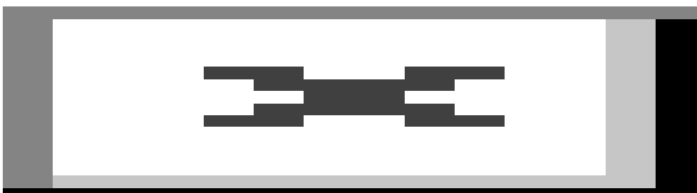

- 1) After clicking on the + sign in the Illness of Public Health Concern header, click on the Edit icon in the "Options" column:

- 2) To add names of children who meet the exposure definition, click on the Add New link in the “Exposures” header (NOTE: The red text under the “Exposures” header is specific to the illness under investigation):

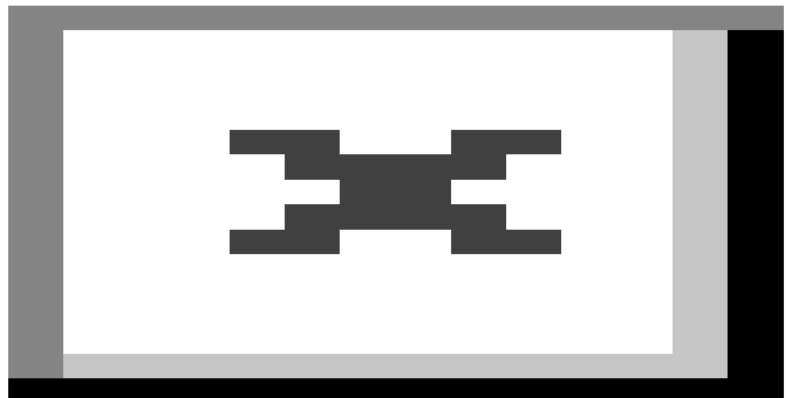

- 3) In the pop-up window, enter the A# of the exposed contact and click the Search button:

- 4) After the correct name displays, click the circle in the “Select” column and click Save (NOTE: Only one child can be added at a time):

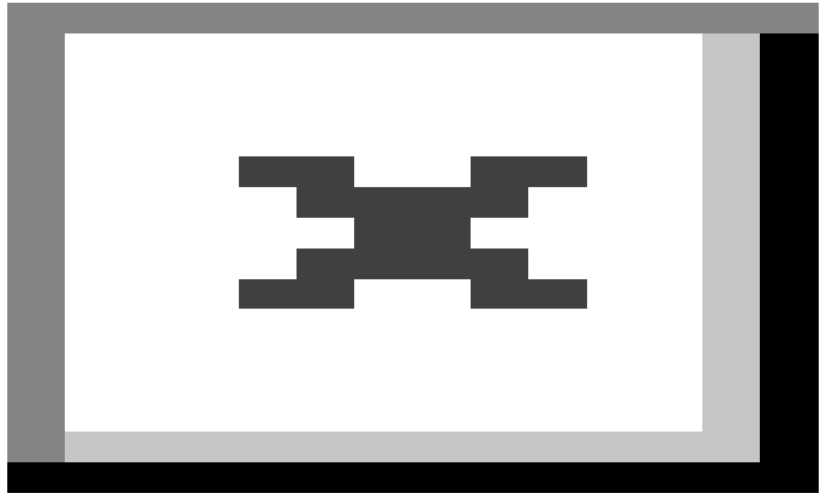

- 5) The exposed contact’s name will display in the “Exposures” table. To add information (e.g., IgG testing, immunizations) to the exposed contact’s health record, click on the Edit icon in the “Contact Investigation” column:

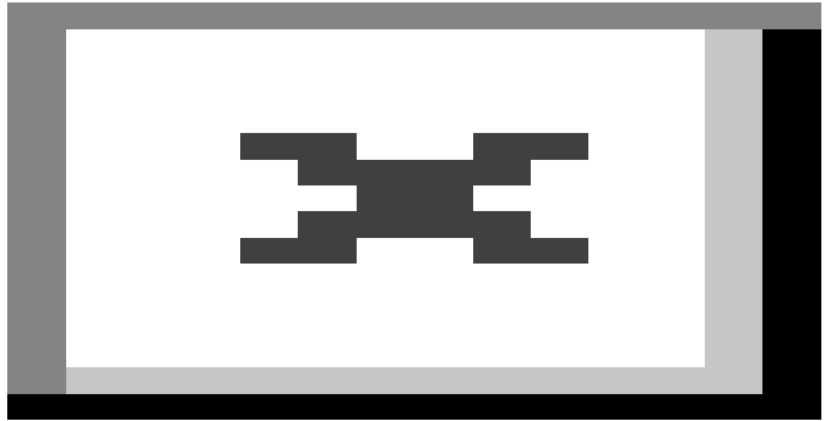

- 6) The contact Investigation form for the exposed contact will display as shown below. Complete the fields and select an outcome of the contact investigation while the child was in ORR care. If an outcome has not yet been determined (e.g., the incubation period has not yet passed), select Pending and update when the investigation is complete.

Example of completed panel with Pending as the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation”:

- 7) After clicking Save on the Contact Investigation form, the system will switch back to the Illness of Public Health Concern panel in the record of the child who had the illness (e.g., varicella). The outcome of the contact investigation will display in the “Exposures” table:

- 8) If the exposed contact develops the illness, change the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation” field to Diagnosed with illness and the exposed contact will automatically be added to a cluster with the original case. REMINDER: You MUST enter a Medical Complaint report for the exposed contact if s/he develops the illness.

Please let us know if you have any questions!

Hello (b)(6), (b)(6) and (b)(6)

We have received word that UC A# (b)(6) (last name), is scheduled to arrive at BCFS Harlingen. He has been diagnosed with Varicella and may have been infectious while in CBP custody.

Can you please ensure that this is UC is isolated and evaluated ASAP, pending arrival. In the event that he is travelling with any UC please ensure these UC are quarantined and vaccinated ASAP if not pregnant, or under 1 years of age.

A reminder to document diagnoses and exposures as instructed in the attached Wellness Wednesday. You know the drill by now : -)

Please confirm receipt. Please also send us an update on the UC(s) arrival once that happens.

I will reach out in an hour, if I do not hear from your first.

(b)(6)

Thank you for the notification and the preliminary information.

Just to confirm some of the information you sent to me:

-There were 4 UC's that arrived together on 3/9/17 without any symptoms and were vaccinated 3/13/17:

-I know you indicated that (b)(6) came to YFT with 3 UC's on 3/9. However, did (b)(6) have any close contact (i.e. same classroom, roommate, car ride) lasting >1hr with any minors in your program from 3/13 who may have been pregnant or not vaccinated? Because the rash broke out 3/15, (b)(6) is considered infectious as of 3/13 the same day the minors were vaccinated; So did others have contact with him?

-Also, why are you calling this "atypical chickenpox"?

-You stated that all girls in the house have had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) and no pregnant teens and or babies in that house; All boys in the boys house have all had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) a few have had their 2nd set

The list of who came together:

1. (b)(6) (this is the minor who was dx with chickenpox)

3/14 late pm STARTED TEMP

3/15 BROKE OUT IN RASH

3/15 to the DRS dx with atypical chickenpox

2. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15/17 NO RASH/ NO TEMP - quarantined

3. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15 NO RASH/NO TEMP- quarantined

4. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13/- as of 3/15 NO TEMP/NO RASH - quarantined

(b)(6)'s roommate does not need to be quarantined as he was vaccinated in Nov 2016.

We will provide you with additional guidance in the AM as we review the portal and these minor's records.

CORRECT

-I know you indicated that (b)(6) came to YFT with 3 UC's on 3/9. However, did (b)(6) have any close contact (i.e. same classroom, roommate, car ride) lasting >1hr with any minors in your program from 3/13 who may have been pregnant or not vaccinated?

NO ALL UACS AT YFT HAVE HAD THEIR 1ST SET OF VACCINES /NO PREGNAT EXPOSURE ONCE AT YFT Because the rash broke out 3/15, (b)(6) is considered infectious as of 3/13 the same day the minors were vaccinated; So did others have contact with him? YES THEY HAD CONTACT WITH HIM THEY TRAVELLED TOGETHER AND WENT TO THE DR THE SAME DAY

-Also, why are you calling this "atypical chickenpox"?

THAT IS WHAT THE DR CALLED IT IN HER REPORT /HE STARTED HIS TEMP THE NEXT DAY THEN GOT THE RASH TODAY 3/15

-You stated that all girls in the house have had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) and no pregnant teens and or babies

in that house; All boys in the boys house have all had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) a few have had their 2nd set YES VARICELLA IS INCLUDED IN THE 1ST SET BUT I WILL VERIFY THURSDAY

The list of who came together:

1. (b)(6) (this is the minor who was dx with chickenpox)

3/14 late pm STARTED TEMP

3/15 BROKE OUT IN RASH

3/15 to the DRS dx with atypical chickenpox

2. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15/17 NO RASH/ NO TEMP -
quarantined

3. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15 NO RASH/NO TEMP-
quarantined

4. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13/- as of 3/15 NO TEMP/NO RASH -
quarantined

(b)(6) s roommate does not need to be quarantined as he was vaccinated in Nov 2016.

We will provide you with additional guidance in the AM as we review the portal and these minor's records.

Marisol,

While I can certainly appreciate the unique population of minors in your care and how the delayed release guidance we sent out would impact many of the UC's at the shelter and ultimately extra work on the portal, we would still appreciate and require a notification for each case.

Thank you very much for reaching out and seeking clarification.

Good Afternoon,

Our program only serves pregnant and parenting moms with their children. Per OB/GYN orders our pregnant residents are currently no travel at the 36 week of pregnancy. Earlier holds on travel are made on a case by case basis. After the birth, both mom and baby are no travel pending medical clearance.

Is the notification below needed for each case?

Subject: Wellness Wednesday: Delayed Releases

FYI: The following email was sent to all programs, as well.

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Wellness Wednesday covers delayed releases for health reasons.

Q: Can a child's release from an ORR care provider program be delayed for a health reason?

A: Yes, an unaccompanied child's release to a sponsor may be delayed for health care under certain circumstances.

Q: Who should be notified if a child's release might be delayed because of a health reason?

A: The care provider or program should notify the Division of Health for Unaccompanied Children (DHUC) at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov and the program's FFS when the child is ready for release, but it is felt that the Release Request form cannot be submitted for review because of a health need. Examples of healthcare needs include waiting for a specialty or follow-up visit, obtaining medical clearance for travel, and pending lab results.

Q: Who makes the final determination that release should be delayed for a health reason?

A: DHUC will determine whether a child's release should be delayed for medical, dental, or psychiatric reasons on a case-by-case basis by assessing multiple factors.

Q: What factors are considered by DHUC for delayed release of a child?

A: The primary factors are urgency of the condition and threat to public health.

- Urgency of the condition: The need for an early intervention to relieve distress or to prevent progression of illnesses or conditions that if left untended could reasonably be expected to threaten the child's life or livelihood before he or she reaches adulthood.
- Threat to public health: A child who has a condition that threatens public health will be held in custody until the problem is resolved. In the typical instance, this refers to a contagious disease that requires treatment or isolation until it is noncontagious.

Secondary factors taken into consideration include, but are not limited to, the child's relation to the sponsor, access to specialty care and health insurance in the sponsor's community, continuity of care for completion of treatment that has already started, the extent of delay, and pre-existing conditions. Referral to a specialist alone may not be an approved reason for delay. The underlying problem and the constellation of findings will factor into the decision.

Q: What does DHUC require to make a decision on delaying release?

A: DHUC will need to review the Portal records; please ensure everything, including medical reports and laboratory results, is recorded correctly in the Portal. In addition, DHUC may request additional examinations or consultations for the child on a case-by-case basis.

Q: What are some examples of requests for delayed release that will not be approved?

A: In the following examples, release should not be delayed:

- 1) Child has a history of a seizure disorder in home country, may or may not be taking medication, has been seizure free for the last year, and is now waiting to see a neurologist.
- 2) Child sustained extremity injury during the journey from country of origin, was seen by orthopedics, and was told to follow up in 6 weeks.
- 3) Child reported suicidal ideations and was seen in ER for mental health evaluation. In the assessment, the risk is determined to be minimal. The child is discharged back to program and told to follow up with psychiatrist, but no appointment is available for 6 weeks.
- 4) Child has developed coughing and congestion, has no fever, and is well-appearing.
- 5) Child has been diagnosed with strep throat, has been on antibiotics for 24hrs and is afebrile.

Q: What steps should be taken to ensure that further care for children is received after release, when needed?

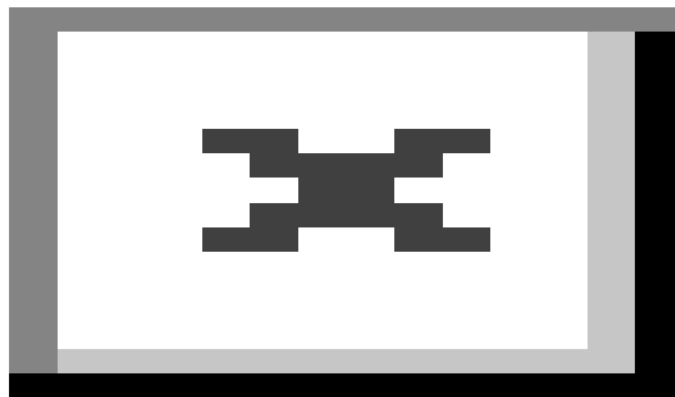

A: DHUC can facilitate continuity of care in the sponsor's community when necessary.

Q: After DHUC approves a delayed release, how should I document the delayed release in the Portal?

A: Complete the field, "Release of child from the program delayed because of this diagnosis" on the Case Wrap-Up panel for each selected diagnosis. Select Yes if the child's release was delayed because of the final/discharge diagnosis selected in this Case Wrap-Up panel (an automated notification will be sent to DHUC); select No if not. If the child's release was delayed because of another final/discharge diagnosis, the user should select Yes on the Case Wrap-Up panel associated with that diagnosis. For example, if a child is diagnosed with gastroenteritis and varicella and release is delayed because of the varicella, select No for this question in the gastroenteritis Case Wrap-Up panel and Yes in the varicella Case Wrap-Up panel.

NOTE: Only select Yes if the Release Request Form is ready to be submitted at the time the child was diagnosed with the condition.

Dear Colleagues,

There will be a new version of the MAPS Portal starting on Monday, March 13, 2017. We have attached the document, Treatment Authorization Request (TAR) Submission Guidance, that highlights the changes and provides examples and user instructions. This document has also been posted to the Documents section of the MAPS Portal for reference.

9c95-428c-ab15-0a7ddfd0213b/TAR_Guidence_2017.pdf

Beginning Monday, when you click the Generate TAR button, you will now be prompted to choose a main category which will either be Dental, Medical or Mental. From there, you will need to choose the correct TAR subcategory. Please note the following:

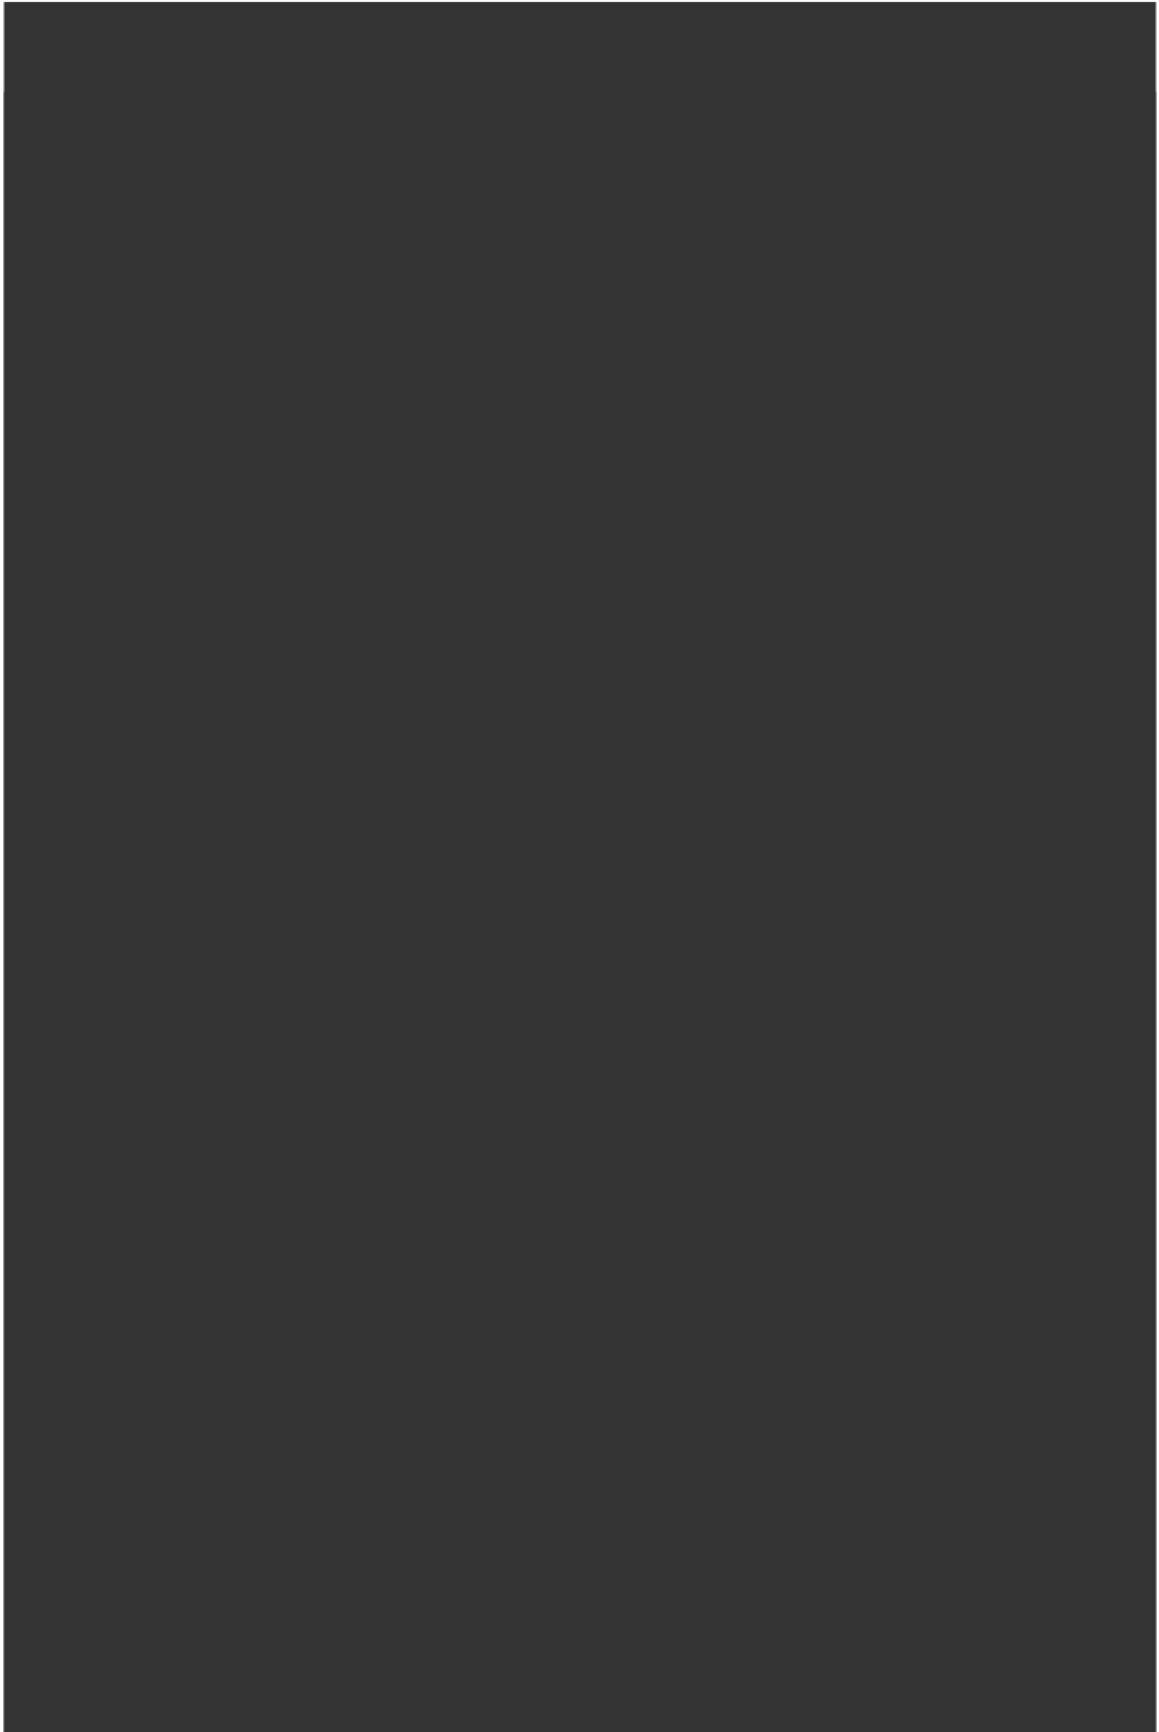

- The TAR categories “Pregnancy-related visit”, “Eye exam”, “STD testing”, and “Other STD testing” have been eliminated.

- Pregnancy-related visits should now be entered under the “Specialty and Follow-up Visit/Outpatient Procedure “ subcategory in the “Medical” category. Within the TAR, select “Obstetrician” as the Specialty/Procedure Type.

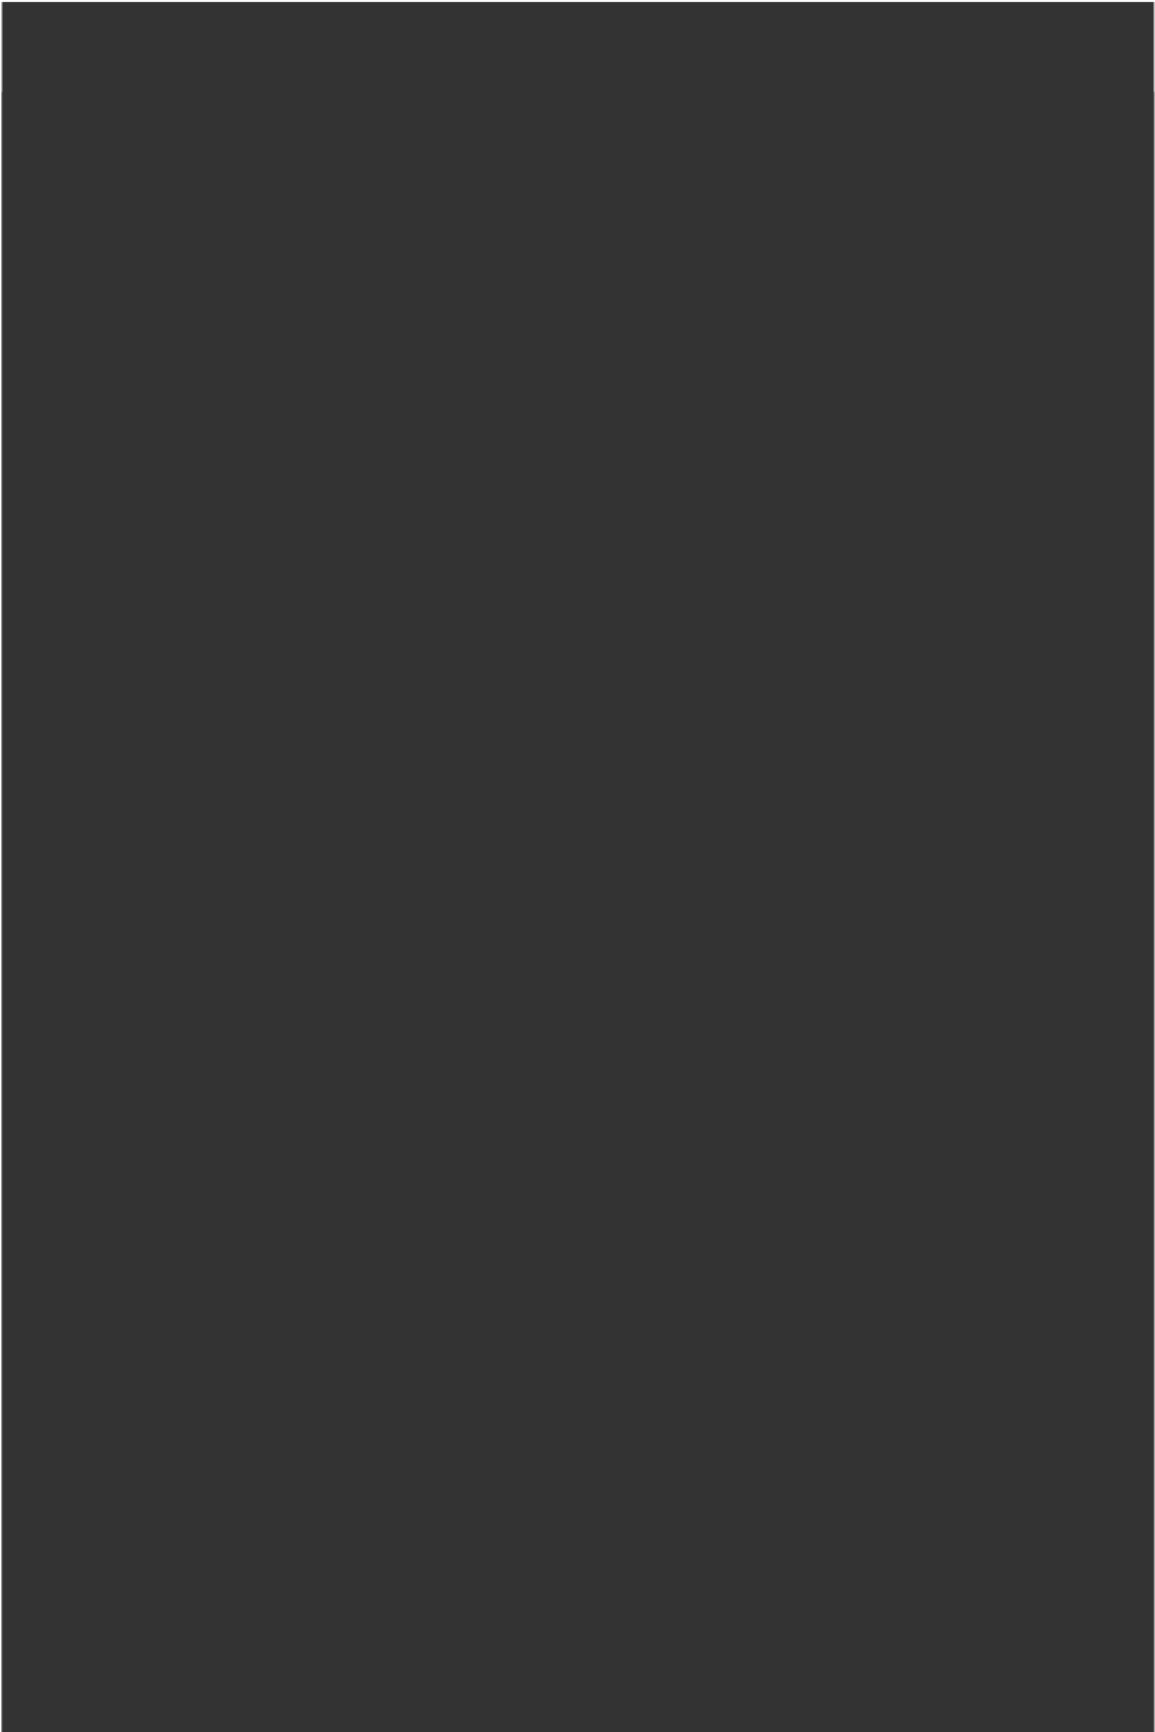

- Eye exams should now be entered under the “Specialty and Follow-up Visit/Outpatient Procedure “ subcategory in the “Medical” category. Within the TAR, select “Ophthalmologist/Optometrlist” as the Specialty/Procedure Type.

- All STD lab requests should now be entered under the “Labs/Imaging studies” subcategory in the “Medical” category.

Hello Nurse (b)(6)

Thank you for the additional information.

In reviewing the UC's record I see the varicella has not been recorded yet. A reminder to please update the record as soon as possible:

- (1) Document the UC's varicella dx
- (2) Record the encounter(s) as you normally would, medication, etc. as a new Medical Complaint.
- (3) Since the 3 UC were exposed while at the program, and the timing is in a bit of a grey area, please also document the exposures under the Index cases "Illness of Public Health Concern" section. Directions attached – refer to part II and screen shots below. Let me know if you have questions, or need assistance.

Add New --

Illness of Public Health Concern –

Today’s “Health Tab Tip” (named changed from “Medical Module Monday” since we will eventually be covering mental health and dental reports as well) will cover entering information on children exposed to a reportable infectious disease into the Medical Module. There are several diseases (e.g., active TB, varicella) that may require a contact investigation to be performed if a child was infectious while in ORR care. After the final diagnosis has been entered into the Case Wrap-Up panel, the disease-specific Illness of Public Health Concern panel will be automatically added to the report. NOTE: This Health Tab Tip pertains to scenarios where the child with the reportable infectious disease is in care at the same program as the exposed contacts.

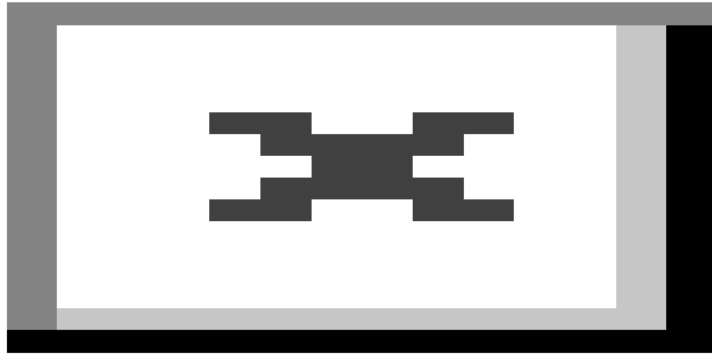

We’ve noticed that many programs have not been entering info on exposed contacts to varicella cases in the Medical Module as required, so we will be using varicella in this example.

- 1) After clicking on the + sign in the Illness of Public Health Concern header, click on the Edit icon in the “Options” column:

cid:image001.jpg@01D19F21.9812C880

- 2) To add names of children who meet the exposure definition, click on the Add New link in the “Exposures” header (NOTE: The red text under the “Exposures” header is specific to the illness under investigation):

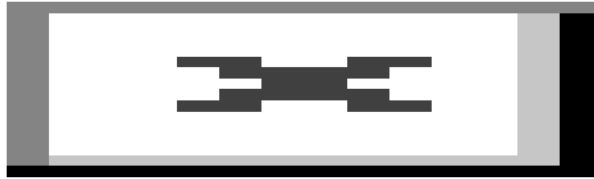

cid:image005.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

- 3) In the pop-up window, enter the A# of the exposed contact and click the Search button:

cid:image003.jpg@01D19F21.9812C880

- 4) After the correct name displays, click the circle in the "Select" column and click Save (NOTE: Only one child can be added at a time):

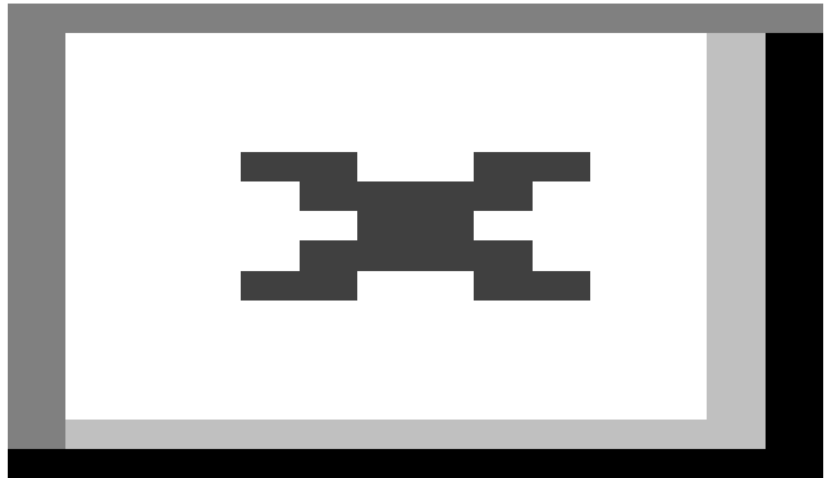

cid:image006.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

- 5) The exposed contact's name will display in the "Exposures" table. To add information (e.g., IgG testing, immunizations) to the exposed contact's health record, click on the Edit icon in the "Contact Investigation" column:

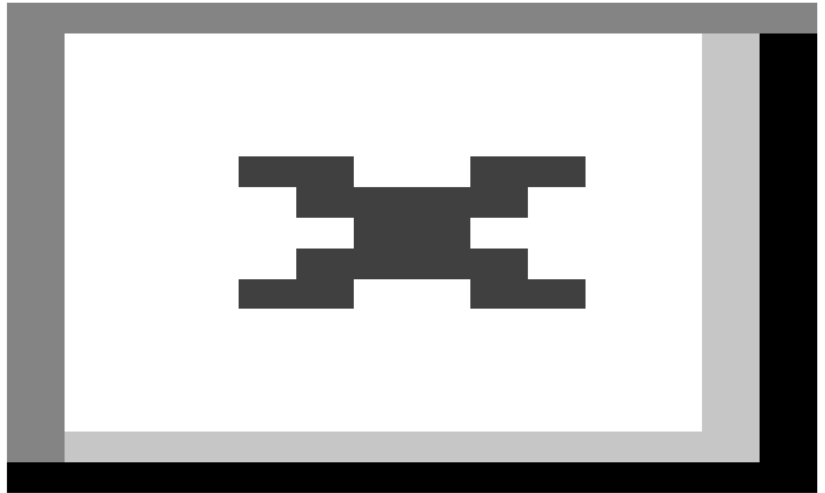

cid:image019.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

- 6) The contact Investigation form for the exposed contact will display as shown below. Complete the fields and select an outcome of the contact investigation while the child was in ORR care. If an outcome has not yet been determined (e.g., the incubation period has not yet passed), select Pending and update when the investigation is complete.

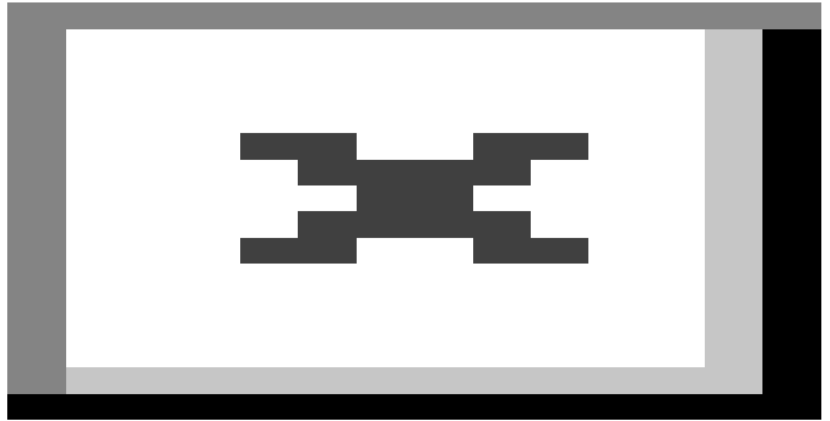

cid:image030.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

Example of completed panel with Pending as the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation”:

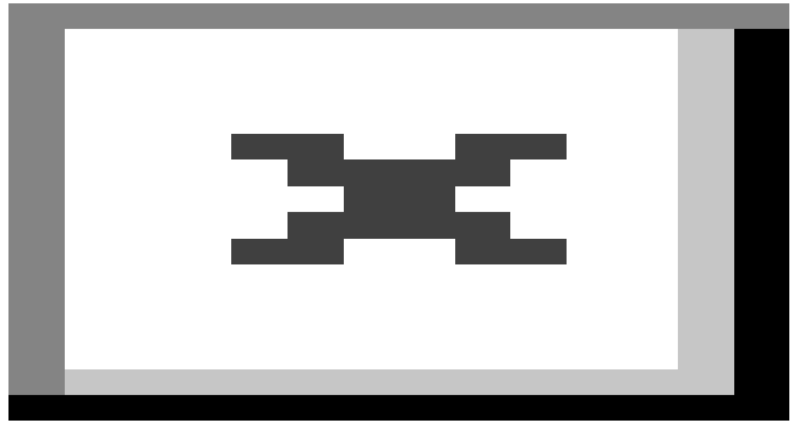

cid:image031.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

- 7) After clicking Save on the Contact Investigation form, the system will switch back to the Illness of Public Health Concern panel in the record of the child who had the illness (e.g., varicella). The outcome of the contact investigation will display in the “Exposures” table:

cid:image033.jpg@01D19FDB.3363D590

- 8) If the exposed contact develops the illness, change the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation” field to Diagnosed with illness and the exposed contact will automatically be added to a cluster with the original case. REMINDER: You MUST enter a Medical Complaint report for the exposed contact if s/he develops the illness.

Thank you for the notification and the preliminary information.

Just to confirm some of the information you sent to me:

-There were 4 UC's that arrived together on 3/9/17 without any symptoms and were vaccinated 3/13/17: CORRECT

-I know you indicated that (b)(6) came to YFT with 3 UC's on 3/9. However, did (b)(6) have any close contact (i.e. same classroom, roommate, car ride) lasting >1hr with any minors in your program from 3/13 who may have been pregnant or not vaccinated? NO ALL UACS AT YFT HAVE HAD THEIR 1ST SET OF VACCINES /NO PREGNAT EXPOSURE ONCE AT YFT Because the rash broke out 3/15, (b)(6) is considered infectious as of 3/13 the same day the minors were vaccinated; So did others have contact with him? YES THEY HAD CONTACT WITH HIM THEY TRAVELLED TOGETHER AND WENT TO THE DR THE SAME DAY

-Also, why are you calling this "atypical chickenpox"? THAT IS WHAT THE DR CALLED IT IN HER REPORT /HE STARTED HIS TEMP THE NEXT DAY THEN GOT THE RASH TODAY 3/15

-You stated that all girls in the house have had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) and no pregnant teens and or babies in that house; All boys in the boys house have all had their 1st set of vaccines (to be sure: that includes Varicella vaccine?) a few have had their 2nd set YES VARICELLA IS INCLUDED IN THE 1ST SET BUT I WILL VERIFY THURSDAY

The list of who came together:

1. (b)(6) (this is the minor who was dx with chickenpox)
3/14 late pm STARTED TEMP
3/15 BROKE OUT IN RASH
3/15 to the DRS dx with atypical chickenpox
 2. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15/17 NO RASH/ NO TEMP - quarantined
 3. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13- as of 3/15 NO RASH/NO TEMP- quarantined
 4. (b)(6) IMMUNIZATIONS DONE 3/13/- as of 3/15 NO TEMP/NO RASH - quarantined
- (b)(6)'s roommate does not need to be quarantined as he was vaccinated in Nov 2016.

We will provide you with additional guidance in the AM as we review the portal and these minor's records.

Subject:	Health Tab Tips - Entering Contact Investigation Information on Exposed Contacts, Part 2
Date:	2016/06/09 16:37:00

Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Hello Colleagues,

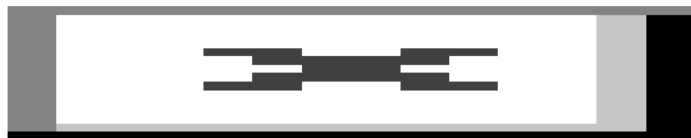

When a child has been exposed to an infectious disease such as varicella, a Contact Investigation form must be completed in the Health tab – please do NOT enter the exposure as a Medical Complaint or in the Initial Medical Exam report. A Medical Complaint report should only be entered on an exposed contact if s/he develops the disease.

The Contact Investigation form can be entered in one of two ways and differs based on the scenario:

- If the exposed child(ren) and the child diagnosed with the infectious disease are both in care at your program, enter the Contact Investigation form through the “Illness of Public Health Concern” panel on the case’s record. See the attached Health Tab Tip sent 4/26/2016 for detailed guidance.
- If the child was exposed to an individual with an infectious disease outside the program (e.g., Border Patrol station) or from a staff member in your program, enter a Contact Investigation form directly from the contact’s UAC Health screen (see Steps below). NOTE: The ORR Medical Team or Intakes often notifies programs when a child in your care was exposed to an infectious disease before arrival to your program (e.g., child was exposed during transport to your program).

Steps (applies only to scenario b above):

- Click on the + sign to expand the Contact Investigations form section and click on the Add New button:

cid:image001.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- Select the disease to which the child was exposed from the dropdown. Click on Next to open the Contact Investigation form:

cid:image002.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- 3) Complete the form. Indicate the interventions taken because of the exposure (e.g., vaccinations, tests, quarantine). Specify the outcome of the contact investigation by selecting:
- Pending if a test has been performed but the results are not yet back. It is important to remember to update the Outcome status when the contact investigation has been completed by the program/ORR.
 - Incomplete evaluation if the child was asymptomatic while in ORR care but was subsequently lost to follow-up (e.g., discharged from ORR custody) prior to the end of the incubation period for the illness.
 - Cleared if 1) the child was observed for the entire incubation period in ORR custody and no signs/symptoms developed that were consistent with the illness to which the contact was exposed or, 2) the child was vaccinated in the appropriate timeframe post-exposure (for varicella and hepatitis A only), or 3) serology testing demonstrated the child was immune (e.g., IgG +).
 - Diagnosed with illness if the child developed signs/symptoms of the illness of concern and was diagnosed with the illness to which the contact was exposed. A Medical Complaint must also be entered to capture the diagnosis.

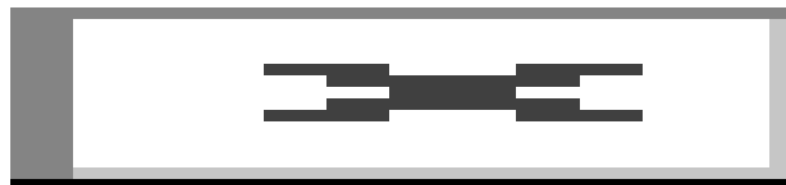

NOTE: The options are slightly different for contacts of an active or suspect TB case. Please refer to the 'UAC Portal User Guide – Medical Module' (page 91) on the main menu of the UAC Portal for further information.

cid:image003.jpg@01D1C260.38301820

- 4) Back on the UAC Health screen, the entered Contact Investigation form will display. Click on the Edit icon in the Options column to update results or make corrections.

Subject:	Health Tab Tips - Entering Contact Investigation Information on Exposed Contacts
Date:	2016/04/26 16:51:12
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

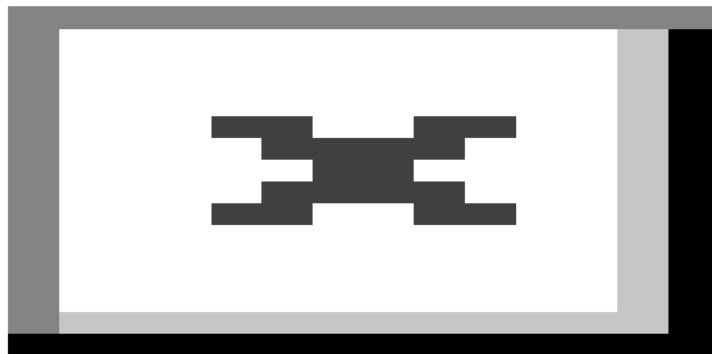

Today's "Health Tab Tip" (named changed from "Medical Module Monday" since we will eventually be covering mental health and dental reports as well) will cover entering information on children exposed to a reportable infectious disease into the Medical Module. There are several diseases (e.g., active TB, varicella) that may require a contact investigation to be performed if a child was infectious while in ORR care. After the final diagnosis has been entered into the Case Wrap-Up panel, the disease-specific Illness of Public Health Concern panel will be automatically added to the report. NOTE: This Health Tab Tip pertains to scenarios where the child with the reportable infectious disease is in care at the same program as the exposed contacts.

We've noticed that many programs have not been entering info on exposed contacts to varicella cases in the Medical Module as required, so we will be using varicella in this example.

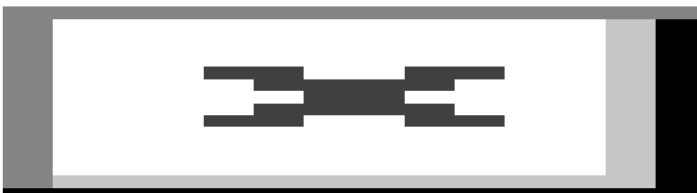

- 1) After clicking on the + sign in the Illness of Public Health Concern header, click on the Edit icon in the "Options" column:

- 2) To add names of children who meet the exposure definition, click on the Add New link in the “Exposures” header (NOTE: The red text under the “Exposures” header is specific to the illness under investigation):

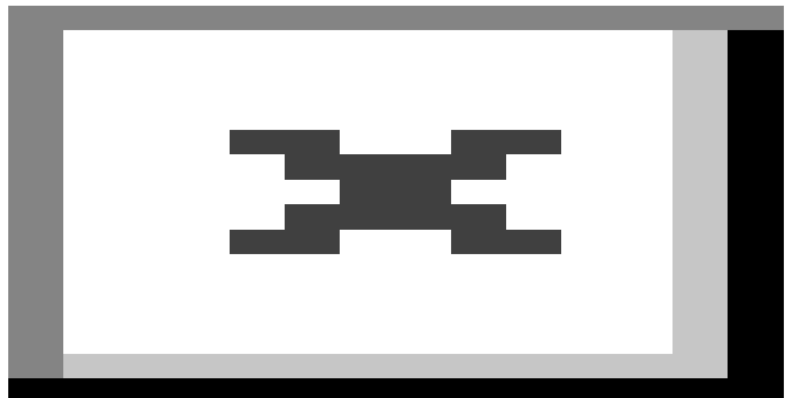

- 3) In the pop-up window, enter the A# of the exposed contact and click the Search button:

- 4) After the correct name displays, click the circle in the “Select” column and click Save (NOTE: Only one child can be added at a time):

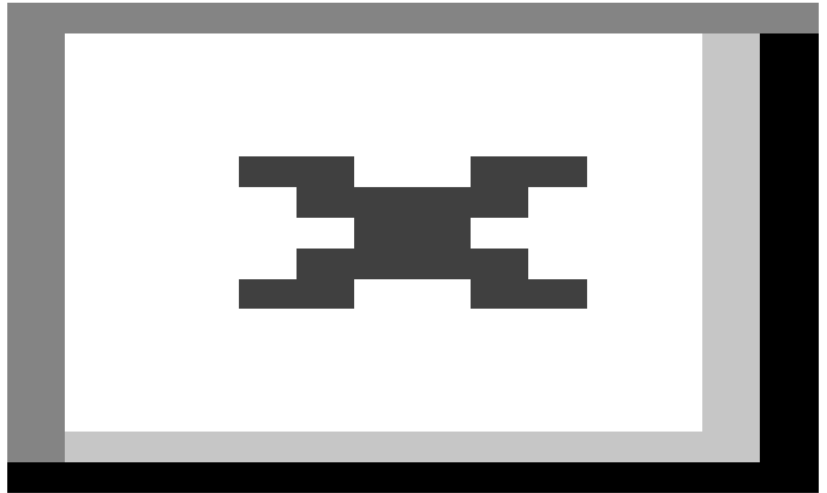

- 5) The exposed contact’s name will display in the “Exposures” table. To add information (e.g., IgG testing, immunizations) to the exposed contact’s health record, click on the Edit icon in the “Contact Investigation” column:

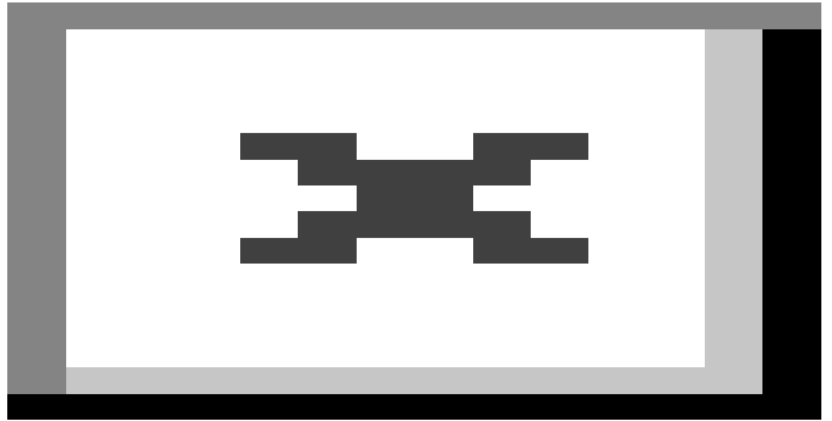

- 6) The contact Investigation form for the exposed contact will display as shown below. Complete the fields and select an outcome of the contact investigation while the child was in ORR care. If an outcome has not yet been determined (e.g., the incubation period has not yet passed), select Pending and update when the investigation is complete.

Example of completed panel with Pending as the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation”:

- 7) After clicking Save on the Contact Investigation form, the system will switch back to the Illness of Public Health Concern panel in the record of the child who had the illness (e.g., varicella). The outcome of the contact investigation will display in the “Exposures” table:

- 8) If the exposed contact develops the illness, change the “Outcome of ORR Contact Investigation” field to Diagnosed with illness and the exposed contact will automatically be added to a cluster with the original case. REMINDER: You MUST enter a Medical Complaint report for the exposed contact if s/he develops the illness.

Please let us know if you have any questions!

Thank you, (b)(6) – glad to hear both minors are doing well. (b)(6) should remain in quarantine until we get the results of his varicella IgG and can determine his immune status.

Please complete the portal entries for (b)(6)'s exposure and (b)(6)'s varicella as soon as possible.

Best, Lara

Importance: High

Good afternoon, Upbring -

As you may be aware, a minor with varicella and another exposed minor will be placed at your program. Please confirm receipt of this message and see follow-up steps below:

For the minor with varicella (UC (b)(6)):

Isolate her upon arrival; she should remain isolated until their lesions have crusted over

2)

Please let us know ASAP if she is pregnant

3)

Enter her varicella diagnoses in the Health Tab of the UAC Portal

For the exposed minor (UC (b)(6)):

Because we are unsure of the initial date of exposure, please: quarantine the minor; collect a blood specimen for varicella IgG testing; and vaccinate the minor

2.

Let us know as soon as possible if the minor cannot be vaccinated against varicella

3.

Please make sure to enter this information into the UAC Portal Health Tab under contact investigation (see attached)

We're happy to consult further if you have questions. Thanks much, Lara

Good afternoon, Upbring -

As you may be aware, a minor with varicella and another exposed minor will be placed at your program. Please confirm receipt of this message and see follow-up steps below:

For the minor with varicella (UC (b)(6)):

- 1) Isolate her upon arrival; she should remain isolated until their lesions have crusted over
- 2) Please let us know ASAP if she is pregnant
- 3) Enter her varicella diagnoses in the Health Tab of the UAC Portal

For the exposed minor (UC (b)(6)):

1. Because we are unsure of the initial date of exposure, please: quarantine the minor; collect a blood specimen for varicella IgG testing; and vaccinate the minor
2. Let us know as soon as possible if the minor cannot be vaccinated against varicella
3. Please make sure to enter this information into the UAC Portal Health Tab under contact investigation (see attached)

We're happy to consult further if you have questions. Thanks much, Lara

Subject: Action required - varicella case and exposure en route to program (Upbring)

Importance: High

Good afternoon, Upbring -

As you may be aware, a minor with varicella and another exposed minor will be placed at your program. Please confirm receipt of this message and see follow-up steps below:

For the minor with varicella (UC (b)(6)):

Isolate her upon arrival; she should remain isolated until their lesions have crusted over
- 2)
Please let us know ASAP if she is pregnant
- 3)
Enter her varicella diagnoses in the Health Tab of the UAC Portal

For the exposed minor (UC (b)(6)):

Because we are unsure of the initial date of exposure, please: quarantine the minor; collect a blood specimen for varicella IgG testing; and vaccinate the minor

2.

Let us know as soon as possible if the minor cannot be vaccinated against varicella

3.

Please make sure to enter this information into the UAC Portal Health Tab under contact investigation (see attached)

We're happy to consult further if you have questions. Thanks much, Lara

SIR Addendum

BCFS HHS – ICS Emergency Shelter, San Antonio

UC: (b)(6)

Summary Update:

UC contacted her mother in home country to request a notarized statement authorizing the termination of the minor's pregnancy. During follow up with minor, she told her case manager that her mother refused to provide authorization and that she explained to the minor that it was due to religious believes and personal experiences. UC stated that after the phone call with her mother and the amount of time it is taking for ORR approval she is seeing it as a sign from God and has decided to continue her pregnancy and is no longer requesting termination. Case Manager also followed up with the minor's mother, who confirmed the information provided by the minor.

Hello (b)(6)

Thank you for the updates on UC A#(b)(6). I hope baby and mother are doing well. A reminder to begin the baby's Medicaid application as soon as possible if you haven't already.

In reviewing the record, I see there are a number of Medical Complaints that should be documented as 'an update visit' under the pregnancy dx. Please re-enter any visit related to the 11/28 pregnancy dx through the 'Add an Update Visit' function under the IME section. Any well-visit for immunizations, or a condition not related to pregnancy, can remain as a new Medical Complaint.

Please review the attached documentation for detailed guidance. Then complete the attached form and contact uachelpdesk@ap-in.com to delete the repeat entries.

Do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions, or need assistance.

Best,
Mita

Subject:	Health Tab Tip: Health Tab Change Request Form
Date:	2017/01/17 15:00:00
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Health Tab Tip covers the process for requesting a change and/or deletion in a Health report from the UAC Portal Help Desk.

If a mistake has been made during data entry into the Health tab, complete the attached form and submit to the Portal Help Desk at uachelpdesk@ap-in.com. You may request up to 5 corrections for one A# per form. With some requests, it's very helpful if a screenshot is included (there are several ways to take a screenshot; see steps below for one common method). In the near future, functionality will be added to the Health tab section of the Portal that will allow programs to delete incorrectly entered immunizations, lab results, medications, files, etc. In the meantime, however, please use the attached form for all change requests pertaining to reports entered in the Health tab. An example of a completed Change Request Form is attached for reference. NOTE: Previously submitted requests do not need to be resubmitted on this form; please start using this form tomorrow, 1/18/2017.

After the form has been submitted to the Help Desk, an automated response will be generated with a ticket number. Once the request has been completed, the requestor will receive notification that the ticket has been closed.

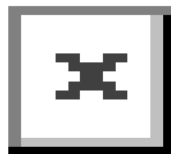

Steps for creating a screenshot:

- 1) Have the image you want on your screen.
- 2) Press the "PrtScr" key (next to the F12 key at the top of the keyboard). On some computers, you may have to press the Fn key in conjunction with the PrtScr key (Fn key is at the bottom of the keyboard, next the Cntrl).
- 3) Return to the Health Tab Change Request form open on your computer, move the cursor to right below the Screenshot field, and press "Ctrl" and "V" on your keyboard.

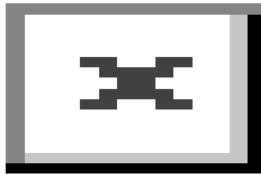

- 4) To crop the image to get rid of the parts that aren't relevant, double click on the image and the Format tab will appear; click on the Crop option. Move the black brackets on the corners of the image to show only the area you want.

Example of black bracket:

- 5) After adjusting the black brackets to the area of interest, go back up and click the "Crop" button. If the picture is too small, click on the image and enlarge it by dragging the corner circles out diagonally.

Example of a corner circle on image:

Please contact the ORR Medical Team with questions, DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov.

Thank you!

Good afternoon DCS Medical Team,

Please know that I am elevating the following case for your review and recommendations. UC (b)(6), DOB: (b)(6) ID# (b)(6) is a recent transfer from the Homestead Shelter diagnosed with a venous malformation on the right cheek. MRI report received on 3/10/17 reveals a venous malformation of spongiform type in the superficial subcutaneous soft tissues of the right cheek with involvement of the underlying muscle. The UC reports that he experiences pain when chewing. Nicklaus Children's Hospital's examining physician, Dr. (b)(6) reports that the lesion is amenable to Sclerotherapy. The Homestead Medical Team tentatively scheduled the minor for 3/15/17 for the recommended Sclerotherapy procedure. However, this tentative appointment may be rescheduled or cancelled pending DCS/ORR Medical Team's approval/recommendations.

I was informed by the UC's assigned Case Manager that the minor's FRP is complete and the release request is ready for submission. The sponsor, minor's biological father, resides in (b)(6)

(b)(6)

Please review the attached medical records and kindly let me know if I have the DCS Medical Team's approval to submit a Serious Medical Request Form.

Note: The attached MRI report will be uploaded to the UAC Portal as soon as possible.

Thank you,

Subject:	Wellness Wednesday: Medical care for pregnant UC
Date:	2016/08/24 18:21:35
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Wellness Wednesday provides guidance about pregnant UC and expectations for their medical care while in ORR custody.

Q: Do pregnant girls need a chest x-ray to look for active TB? Is a chest x-ray safe in pregnancy?

A: Yes. Per guidance from the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and recommended by ORR, pregnancy does not alter the approach to examinations and tests for TB during pregnancy, because the hazard of TB for the mother and unborn child outweigh the hypothetical concerns of adverse effects. As part of the ORR guidance for active TB screening, pregnant girls who are 15 years and older need a chest x-ray regardless of their IGRA or TST results, as do pregnant girls less than 15 years with a positive IGRA or TST result. A single-view PA chest radiography with double shielding, and other precautions per local standards, for the pregnant girl should be done. If you are having difficulties obtaining chest x-rays for pregnant girls, please contact the ORR medical team immediately to discuss.

Q: What STD testing should be done for pregnant UC?

A: An STD panel including HIV, hepatitis B, syphilis, gonorrhea, and chlamydia should be done on all pregnant UC, regardless of age. Ensure that the OB provider has the screening test results.

Q: Do pregnant girls still need to be tested for Zika?

A: Yes. Please refer to the 2/11/16 and 6/22/16 Wellness Wednesdays on Zika virus testing and fact sheets for pregnant UC; these can be found on the home page of the UAC Portal.

Q: When is it safe to discharge a pregnant UC from ORR custody?

A: In the absence of obstetric or medical complications, pregnant girls can observe the same precautions for air travel as the general population and can fly safely. Most commercial airlines allow pregnant girls to fly up to 36 weeks of gestation. Girls may not travel by plane if >36 weeks pregnant.
<http://www.acog.org/-/media/Committee-Opinions/Committee-on-Obstetric-Practice/co443.pdf?dmc=1&ts=20150108T2112281941>

Q: When can a new mom and baby be safely discharged from ORR custody?

A: As long as the mom and baby are medically stable, have follow-up (for mom and baby) arranged post-release, and there are no other safety concerns, they can be discharged soon after delivery. We recommend that if any programs have new moms and babies that are routinely being kept for a post-partum checkup and the baby's 6 week pediatric visit, they consult with the ORR Medical Team. There may be cases where medical or social complexities/complications prevent a timely release, but we will evaluate these circumstances on a case-by-case basis.

Q: What vaccines should be given or avoided in pregnancy?

A: Most vaccines are safe to give in pregnancy. Only live, attenuated virus and live bacterial vaccines are contraindicated during pregnancy. With the exception of Measles, Mumps and Rubella (MMR), Varicella (V), and Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) vaccines, all other vaccines on the ACIP catch-up immunization schedule can be given to pregnant girls. For further information, go to the CDC website on pregnancy and vaccination at <http://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/pregnancy/index.html>

If you have questions, please email the ORR Medical Team at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov .

Thank you!

Subject:	Wellness Wednesday-STD testing guidance part 2
Date:	2016/08/03 19:40:54
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Wellness Wednesday provides follow-up information about the sexually transmitted disease (STD) testing that is part of the initial medical exam for all UC who report sexual activity or abuse. Billing codes for each test are shown in parentheses.

Q: What examinations should be ordered to test for gonorrhea and chlamydia?

A: Urine nucleic acid amplification tests (NAAT) are acceptable tests for gonorrhea (87591) and chlamydia (87491). These tests are non-invasive and the results are available quickly. The urine specimens are simple to collect.

Q: What tests should be ordered to test for syphilis?

A: Syphilis testing requires two steps. The first step is a rapid plasma reagin (RPR) or Venereal Disease Research Laboratory (VDRL) test (code for both is 86592). This test looks for antibodies in the blood that may indicate an active syphilis infection. Because the antibodies are non-specific, a positive test might come from something besides syphilis. A confirmatory test must be done after a positive RPR or VDRL result. This test is called a treponemal test, and there are several different types, depending on the preference of the laboratory (TPPA, FTA-ABS, MHA-TP, etc.) (86780)

Any child with a positive RPR result must have the second test to confirm a diagnosis of syphilis. If the result of the second test is negative, the child does not have syphilis.

Q: What is the ORR algorithm for Hepatitis B testing?

A: We begin hepatitis B screening with a hepatitis B surface antigen test (87340). This looks for parts of the virus in the blood. Because receiving the hepatitis B vaccine can cause false positive results, the following confirmatory tests need to be ordered if the hepatitis B surface antigen test is positive—

- Hepatitis B core antibody, total (86704)
- Hepatitis B surface antibody (86706)

Consult the ORR Medical Team to review these results.

ORR will not approve a generic “Hepatitis Panel” as this includes testing for both Hepatitis A and C.

Q: Should a working diagnosis be entered in the Initial Medical Exam report in the Portal for either syphilis or hepatitis B after the first test is positive?

A: Yes! Please enter the test results of the first tests in the Laboratory Testing section of the Initial Medical Exam and select the matching working diagnosis from the options in the Potentially Reportable Infectious Disease category - Please do not select “Other” and type the diagnosis or test result in the free text field. If the confirmatory test is positive for the disease, confirm the diagnosis in the Case Wrap-Up panel. If the confirmatory test is negative for the disease, select “Ruled out”. Confirmatory lab tests and results should be entered in the Potentially Reportable Infectious Disease (non-TB) Lab Testing section. Upload all laboratory results under the Files section of the initial medical exam.

Q: Should children with these diseases be isolated?

A: No! Children should not be separated from the general population because of a suspect or confirmed diagnosis of gonorrhea, chlamydia, syphilis, or hepatitis B.

When you have questions about STD testing, please contact the ORR Medical Team at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov and we will be glad to assist you. Please also refer to the Wellness Wednesday sent on May 26, 2016 for general guidance on STD testing.

Thank you!

Subject:	Wellness Wednesday-Zika Virus FAQs
Date:	2016/01/21 22:34:55
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Today’s Wellness Wednesday contains important information about Zika virus. CDC has issued a special travel advisory for pregnant women, and this applies to pregnant girls who are entering ORR custody.

Q: Why is Zika virus important to us now?

A: The majority of children who are entering ORR custody have originated in, or traveled through, regions where Zika virus is starting to make people sick and where its transmission is increasing.

Q: What is Zika virus?

A: Zika virus is mosquito-borne virus that can cause symptoms similar to other mosquito-borne viruses, such as fever, rash, and joint pains. It is passed from mosquitos to humans through a mosquito bite, and has not been shown to be passed from human to human, with the exception of an infected woman to her fetus, or in rare cases, through sexual transmission.

Q: What are the symptoms of Zika virus infection?

A: The majority of persons who are infected with Zika virus do not become sick. About one out of five persons infected with Zika virus do become sick from it. The symptoms include fever, a maculo-papular rash, joint pain (arthralgia), or red eyes (conjunctivitis). The illness is mild with symptoms lasting several days to a week. Rare autoimmune complications have been suspected in connection with Zika, but no fatal illnesses have been reported anywhere in the world. The connection between Zika during pregnancy and newborn microcephaly (unusually small head with long-term disabilities) appears to be strong, but it is not proven yet.

Q: Where is Zika virus found?

A: Zika virus was discovered in Africa almost 70 years ago. Since then, it has been spreading to tropical countries around the world. The range of Zika virus is still expanding, and now it is in many countries of origin for UC—El Salvador, Honduras, Guatemala, and Mexico. For a map of countries affected by Zika virus, see the CDC website at <http://www.cdc.gov/zika/>

Q: Has Zika virus been found in the United States?

A: Yes. A growing number of people from multiple states have been infected with Zika virus. For example, a woman in Texas recently became ill with Zika after she returned from a trip to El Salvador. In Hawaii, a baby with microcephaly was born to a woman who had lived in Brazil early in the pregnancy, and the tests of mother and baby suggested that they probably had been infected with Zika virus.

Q: How do I treat Zika virus infection?

A: There is no specific treatment for Zika virus. Supportive care, like rest, fluids and use of medication to relieve pain and fever, may be used.

Q: Does Zika virus affect pregnant women differently than everyone else?

A: Pregnant women can be infected with Zika virus in any trimester. When pregnant women get infected, their illness appears to be the same as anyone else's, and some pregnant women do not become sick at all. Maternal-to-fetal transmission of Zika virus has been documented. Zika virus infections have been confirmed in infants with microcephaly, and the virus has been found in specimens from fetal demise. It is still unproven that Zika virus caused the microcephaly or fetal demise.

Q: Should I do anything special for a pregnant girl(s) at our program? What does CDC recommend?

A: Please make the girl's prenatal caregivers aware that she might have been exposed to Zika because she came from, or traveled through, a country where Zika is found. The caregivers will decide if other testing needs to be done. If a pregnant girl has symptoms of Zika virus and is taken to a medical provider, please alert the medical provider about her travel history. CDC has issued preliminary guidance for the care of women who might have been exposed to Zika during pregnancy

(http://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/volumes/65/wr/mm6502e1.htm?s_cid=mm6502e1_w)

Q: Is Zika virus infection a reportable disease?

A: Healthcare providers are encouraged to report suspected Zika virus disease cases to their state or local health department to help with diagnosis and to decrease the risk of local transmission. Currently testing for Zika virus can only be done at CDC or at a few state health departments.

If you have any further questions, please email us at DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov

Thank you,

Hi Seton Home Medical,

Please remember the following:

- 1) The same diagnosis should not be entered multiple times,
- 2) F/u visits for conditions related to the pregnancy should be entered as Update Visit reports and not new Medical Complaint reports,
- 3) F/u immunizations should be entered as Medical Complaints with a diagnosis of "Well-child" if no condition was noted.

I've attached guidance on report entry for your review as well as the change request form needed for requesting corrections to health reports.

Please let me know if you need assistance.

Thank you,
Kirsten

Subject:	Health Tab Tip: Health Tab Change Request Form
Date:	2017/01/17 15:00:00
Priority:	Normal
Type:	Note

Dear Colleagues,

Today's Health Tab Tip covers the process for requesting a change and/or deletion in a Health report from the UAC Portal Help Desk.

If a mistake has been made during data entry into the Health tab, complete the attached form and submit to the Portal Help Desk at uachelpdesk@ap-in.com. You may request up to 5 corrections for one A# per form. With some requests, it's very helpful if a screenshot is included (there are several ways to take a screenshot; see steps below for one common method). In the near future, functionality will be added to the Health tab section of the Portal that will allow programs to delete incorrectly entered immunizations, lab results, medications, files, etc. In the meantime, however, please use the attached form for all change requests pertaining to reports entered in the Health tab. An example of a completed Change Request Form is attached for reference. NOTE: Previously submitted requests do not need to be resubmitted on this form; please start using this form tomorrow, 1/18/2017.

After the form has been submitted to the Help Desk, an automated response will be generated with a ticket number. Once the request has been completed, the requestor will receive notification that the ticket has been closed.

Steps for creating a screenshot:

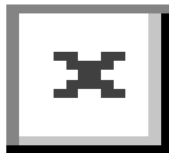

- 1) Have the image you want on your screen.
- 2) Press the "PrtScr" key (next to the F12 key at the top of the keyboard). On some computers, you may have to press the Fn key in conjunction with the PrtScr key (Fn key is at the bottom of the keyboard, next the Cntrl).

- 3) Return to the Health Tab Change Request form open on your computer, move the cursor to right below the Screenshot field, and press “Ctrl” and “V” on your keyboard.

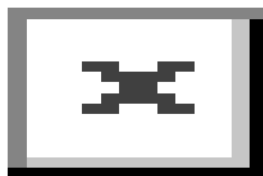

- 4) To crop the image to get rid of the parts that aren't relevant, double click on the image and the Format tab will appear; click on the Crop option. Move the black brackets on the corners of the image to show only the area you want.

Example of black bracket:

- 5) After adjusting the black brackets to the area of interest, go back up and click the “Crop” button. If the picture is too small, click on the image and enlarge it by dragging the corner circles out diagonally.

Example of a corner circle on image:

Please contact the ORR Medical Team with questions, DCSMedical@acf.hhs.gov.

Thank you!

Q: Do pregnant girls need a chest x-ray to look for active TB? Is a chest x-ray safe in pregnancy?

A: Yes. Per guidance from the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and recommended by ORR, pregnancy does not alter the approach to examinations and tests for TB during pregnancy, because the hazard of TB for the mother and unborn child outweigh the hypothetical concerns of adverse effects. As part of the ORR guidance for active TB screening, pregnant girls who are 15 years and older need a chest x-ray regardless of their IGRA or TST results, as do pregnant girls less than 15 years with a positive IGRA or TST result. A single-view PA chest radiography with double shielding, and other precautions per local standards, for the pregnant girl should be done. If you are having difficulties obtaining chest x-rays for pregnant girls, please contact the ORR medical team immediately to discuss.

Subject: (b)(6) has been granted asylum

Good afternoon Elicia and Ivonne,

I'm writing with the excellent news that (b)(6) (A (b)(6)) was granted asylum as of (b)(6) 17. We only found out on Monday (b)(6) 17 and I received his approval notice today. (b)(6) has his notice and I-94 and will give it to him when she sees him tomorrow at BCFS Fairfield. (b)(6) is no longer an unaccompanied child as he has legal status and his removal proceedings were terminated on (b)(6) 17. ORR thus no longer has a legal basis for custody of (b)(6) and must release him. I'm attaching scans of his approval notice, his I-94, and the judge's order terminating proceedings. (b)(6) has family in (b)(6) with whom he wishes to live. He turns 18 on (b)(6). At this time we are advocating that he be released to his family as quickly as possible. (b)(6) and I welcome a conversation with ORR and BCFS to plan for his prompt transition out of custody.

Regards,

Dear Ms. David,

My name is (b)(6) of the firm Zwaik, Gilbert & Associates. We represent the above-named immigrant, who is currently detained in the Youth for Tomorrow Facility in Virginia. Over the course of the last week, we have tried fruitlessly to get in touch with our client, sending documentation for guardianship of the minor and permission from her future guardian, (b)(6) for us to speak to her. (b)(6) is currently 17 and pregnant. Attorney (b)(6) has been denied any contact with this client after speaking to facility administrators. The client's guardian has also made clear that, after her own discussions with Youth for Tomorrow, their officials intend to deport (b)(6) as soon as she turns 18 and gives birth to her child. (b)(6) also informed me that they intend on separating the mother from her child after she gives birth.

This information from the client's guardian and the unusual unwillingness of officials to allow us to speak to our client have gravely depend our concerns in this matter. (b)(6) is an Unaccompanied Minor and should have been released. If we cannot facilitate contact with our client, we will have no choice but to file a habeas corpus petition on this matter. Please let us know what if anything else you may require from us, except for the G-28 form attached to this document.

Thank you, and have a good day.

Subject: Policy Monday

Dear ORR Staff and Care Providers,

ORR has added a new policy about children who receive lawful immigration status while in ORR custody. New section 2.8.6 explains that children with lawful immigration status may not remain in ORR care because they no longer meet the definition of an unaccompanied alien child. To read the entire policy, go to:

We are working on the procedures to better implement this policy. In the meantime, we will hold a conference call on May 18 at 2pm to discuss the policy. Please stay tuned for more details about the conference call.

If you have any questions about this policy or other ORR policies and procedures, please email ucpolicy@acf.hhs.gov.

Thank you for your continued work and support of the Unaccompanied Alien Children program.

Mrs. Maureen Dunn
Division Director
Office of Refugee Resettlement
Administration for Children and Families
901 D Street, SW
Washington, DC 20447

Dear Maureen,

Thank you for coming to meet with me on August 11th to discuss the incident that took place at our St. Michael's Home for Children (SMH) residential facility located at Blue Bell. We are working closely with the local ORR representatives to ensure the wellbeing of all the children involved and resolve this situation. We greatly appreciate their guidance and support.

I would like to reiterate my concern about the situation and offer the following updates pertaining to the categories noted below:

(b)(5)

a. (b)(6) (victim): Upon learning of the July 1st incident, during regular hours, (b)(6) was relocated to a different side of the home at the Blue Bell property, away from (b)(6) and was closely supervised. A safety plan (which was revised upon notification to and after receiving recommendations from the Texas Department of Family Protective Services and ORR) was implemented. (b)(6) was closely monitored by the program and clinical staff, at all hours, for issues relating to sleep, appetite, and behavior patterns. Although CC did not communicate with (b)(6)'s mother within 24 hours of the incident, we did report the incident to her, and (b)(6) stayed in contact with his mother. Upon notification by ORR that (b)(6) was being relocated to the (b)(6) foster care program, we facilitated a phone conversation between (b)(6) and his foster parents. The conversation allowed (b)(6) the opportunity to learn about the family and prepare him for the transition.

b. (b)(6) (perpetrators): As a result of the Children's Assessment Center's findings, Catholic Charities increased the staff supervision to one staff designated for the two boys, with additional night staffing. The boys continued to have single rooms and to receive clinical and program support by Catholic Charities. In addition, the boys were referred to (b)(6) experienced in sexual offenders and psychological assessment. (b)(6)'s recommendations included that the children participate in the Road Maps to Recovery Program and that the families be educated about treatment plans for the children. ORR supported our concerns and responded to our request for the boys to be relocated to a treatment facility specializing in sexualized behaviors. The boys were relocated to (b)(6), where they are receiving specific intervention.

Our clinician made several attempts the week of July 4th to contact (b)(6)'s father and connected with him on July 11th regarding the incident. He initially was overwhelmed but stated he understood the situation was being investigated. Our clinician followed up the next day and (b)(6)'s father indicated he and his wife were fine and willing to follow any recommendations made to help (b)(6).

Our clinician contacted (b)(6)'s mother on July 6th to discuss the incident. Although she was confused, we were able to explain the situation and the process that would occur. She has been very supportive of (b)(6).

c. (b)(6) (two witnesses): The same precautions were taken for (b)(6) and (b)(6) (1) As a result of the Children's Assessment Center's findings, Catholic Charities increased the staff supervision to one staff designated for the two boys, (2) the boys continued staying in single rooms and receiving clinical and program support by Catholic Charities, and (3) the boys were referred to (b)(6) experienced in sexual offenders and psychological assessment. (b)(6)'s recommendations included that the children participate in the Road Maps to Recovery Program and that the families be educated about treatment plans for the children.

Due to the Blue Bell facility serving three distinct populations – older girls, pregnant teens / teen moms and their babies, and younger boys and girls – with each population having different program service needs, Catholic Charities believed we would be more effective if we reduced the distinct populations and associated needs to two groups. ORR worked with Catholic Charities to relocate (b)(6) and (b)(6) to the Galveston facility.

Our case manager contacted (b)(6)'s Aunt on August 2nd to provide her with information regarding the incident. She appeared to understand and continued work with our case manager on completing the family reunification packet. (b)(6) has maintained communication with his Aunt, mother, siblings, and grandmother.

(b)(6)'s mother was also contacted on August 2nd by our case manager who provided her with information regarding the incident. The mother was supportive of (b)(6) and encouraged him to work hard and follow the rules. (b)(6) has maintained communication with his mother.

- d. (b)(6) (b)(6)
 (b)(6) (b)(6)
 (b)(6) We continued to wrap clinical services around (b)(6) – there appeared to be no negative impact by what he saw based on his continued positive progress within the program. (b)(6) (b)(6)
 (b)(6) (b)(6) was re-referred to (b)(6) for a psychological evaluation due to the July 1st incident. (b)(6) was initially referred to (b)(6) due to ORR's concern about his history of physical abuse. On August 22nd, our clinician facilitated a family visit with (b)(6) (b)(6) where the clinician spoke about (b)(6)'s role in notifying us of the July 1st incident. (b)(6) mother was very understanding, spoke with him about his reporting of the incident, and praised him for his good behavior. ORR has initiated and executed plans to transfer (b)(6) (b)(6) to the (b)(6) facility on August 26th.

Care for all of the children residing at the Blue Bell facility during the July 1st incident

- a. Our clinician and associate program director initiated sessions with every child residing at Blue Bell to determine their level of knowledge and impact of the incident. This information was used to determine the appropriate follow up for clinical and program service needs. (b)(6) reported knowledge about the two boys “kissing” with no other details noted about the incident. All of the children stated that they felt safe and were aware that permission is required to go to their bedrooms.

Good Morning,

I'd like to provide the following brief update,

Please be advised, that I made contact with UAC's brother (b)(6) (unverified at this moment as proof of relationship is pending). Minor's brother, (b)(6) reiterated he intends on providing a fax number for care provider to forward FRA. According to (b)(6) he does not know his physical address, but understands that his mother reported he was in (b)(6) however, he wished to correct that information and reported he resides and works in (b)(6). In addition, (b)(6) stated he has a DIP (Documento de Identificacion Personal) from his home country of (b)(6). According to minor's brother he resides alone, he denies any other household members at this point, however he states it is very difficult for him to contact care provider and be available to complete sponsor assessment because he works (b)(6) days out of the week from (b)(6). He assured Program Director that he would text fax number and physical address this evening. I will follow up with minor's brother the evening of 10/21/17 to further discuss reunification process as due to time constraints minor's brother was not able to remain on phone call. Please note, on 10/18 assigned Case Manager received via email from minor's mother in home country a copy of minor's birth certificate and a copy of brother's DIP (GU Identification card), minor's mother stated she would work diligently on obtaining her son's (minor's brother's) birth certificate. Case Manager will reach out to minor's mother today, 10/21 in order to follow-up with request for brother's birth certificate so that formal proof of relationship may be established (all previously documents received to date have been uploaded to portal). According to assigned Case Manager [b)(6)] she has only been able to make contact with minor's brother on two brief occasions, the longest contact was established on 10/18 and lasted approximately 20 minutes at which time Case Manager discussed family reunification process, fingerprint requirements, and probably home study. According to assigned Case Manager, minor's brother reported he did not know his physical address and shared that he was apprehensive about fingerprints and home study, but nonetheless he agreed to partake and complete all reunification requirements.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns regarding the update provided, I will gladly be of assistance, thank you.

Subject: Definition when cases are administratively close

Dear FFS

I am forwarding you the below definition on what does it means to have a case been Administrative closure. Please feel free to share this information with your designated region.

Administrative closure is a procedural mechanism to temporarily stop removal proceedings by removing the case from the immigration judge's or Board of Immigration Appeal's (BIA) calendar. The case is administratively closed to allow an event outside the control of the parties to occur – even if the event does not take place for many years. Once the case is administratively closed, neither the immigrant nor the government counsel need appear in court to attend removal hearings until the case is re-calendared for a new hearing. While the case is closed temporarily, administrative closure does not permanently terminate the case, eliminate the existing Notice to Appear (NTA), nor result in a final order of removal.

In the past, the immigration judge or BIA could not administratively close a case if one party objected. However, there is a new case called Matter of Avetisyan, 25 I&N Dec. 688 decided in 2012 by the BIA that changed this. The BIA held that immigration judges and the BIA may administratively close removal proceedings, even if one of the parties objects.

The BIA noted that once the removal case is commenced, jurisdiction over the case resides with the immigration judge or the BIA. The decision to close proceedings, “[i]nvolves an assessment of factors that are particularly relevant to the efficient management of the resources of the Immigration Courts and the Board...” This decision affirms that the immigration judges and BIA must exercise judgment independent of the desires of DHS.

A UAC whose case has been administratively closed is not granted legal status. The Immigration Judge is closing the case to allow USCIS to make a decision about legal relief for that UAC (usually waiting for the I-360 application to be approved, the asylum interview at the asylum office to occur, etc.). Judges have the discretion to do this and are doing it more often to decrease the number of active cases on their docket. (b)(5)

UAC in ORR custody can be reunified and released to a sponsor while their case is pending before the immigration court or USCIS. However, UAC will not be released from ORR care solely due to their immigration court case being administratively closed because at that moment the UAC does not have legal status. ORR loses jurisdiction over the UAC when the UAC is granted legal status but administrative closure of a case does not grant legal status to a UAC. He/she is still waiting for USCIS to make a decision on an application for legal relief. (b)(5)

(b)(5)

5.

ICE can pick up a UAC to detain him/her in adult detention if the UAC turns 18 while in ORR custody. Certain ICE jurisdictions will release a UAC on recognizance if the UAC has a pending asylum interview or approved I-360 petition but there are multiple factors ICE uses to decide whether to release a UAC on his/her own recognizance. (b)(5)

(b)(5)

I hope you found the information helpful.

Thanks Ivonne

Children are still being exposed to lead.
Policymakers can change that.

By Fadumo M. Abdi, Vanessa Harbin Sacks, and Kristin Anderson Moore

In early 2016, shocking headlines about Flint, Michigan's water crisis dominated the news cycle for months, but high lead levels aren't just an issue for Flint. Lead continues to be a problem for many of America's children, despite marked successes of federal policies in reducing the use of lead in common products--for example, through regulations that phased out lead in gasoline between 1978 and 1996.

Even today, exposure among children comes from a variety of sources, especially from deteriorating lead-based paint in older buildings, lead in pipes that deliver drinking water to homes and schools, or residential proximity to airports used by planes that still run on leaded fuel. Exposure to lead can even come from food, candy, and other consumer products. The neurological effects of lead exposure can be devastating. In children, it is associated with academic and behavioral struggles in school, as lead makes it more difficult to concentrate in class and increases the likelihood of diagnosis with learning disabilities. These deficits become risk factors for future negative outcomes--including delinquency, criminal behavior, substance use, and teen pregnancy--as exposed children enter adolescence and young adulthood. Some of these negative effects may be offset by high-quality programs provided in early and middle childhood, but the preferred solution by far is to prevent initial exposure to lead.

While children's blood lead levels declined dramatically following federal efforts from the 1970s onward, many children continue to be exposed to lead, particularly those from low-income and minority populations. For example, in cities with disproportionately high numbers of low-income (predominantly black or Hispanic) populations--including New Orleans, LA; Baltimore, MD; Cleveland, OH; and East Chicago, IN--many residents live in poorly maintained housing where lead exposure is a big threat. American Indian communities are also disproportionately affected by lead, and face an increased risk of lead exposure from former mining sites on tribal lands and reservation proximity to Superfund sites--land contaminated by hazardous waste that has been identified by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for clean-up.

A new report from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the Health Impact Project at the Pew Charitable Trusts--inspired by Flint and other impacted communities--represents a comprehensive, up-to-date analysis of the sources of lead exposure for children and how that exposure can be prevented. Child Trends and its partners, the Urban Institute and Altarum Institute, were part of the report's quantitative analysis team, assessing the effects, costs, and benefits of various interventions to prevent lead exposure and support children who have been exposed.

The report provides federal, state, and local policymakers with evidence-based recommendations for dealing with lead hazards to prevent exposure among children. Recommendations with the potential to impact the most children include the following:

- • Reduce lead in drinking water in homes built before 1986 and in other places that children frequent, including child care settings and schools.
- • Remove lead paint hazards from housing built before 1960, especially in low-income housing, and in other places where children spend time.
- • Increase enforcement of the EPA's renovation, repair, and painting rule to ensure that the appropriate safety measures are taken when work is done in a house with lead paint.

The report also recommends that policymakers respond on behalf of children who have already been exposed to lead:

- • Improve blood lead testing among children at high risk of exposure, and find and remediate the sources of their exposure.
- • Ensure access to developmental and neuropsychological assessments and appropriate high-quality programs for children with elevated blood lead levels.

Addressing these various lead hazards today can lead to millions (if not billions) of dollars in benefits via healthier, more successful future generations of children with higher levels of educational attainment and reduced health risks, who are less reliant on health and social assistance programs. And because lead disproportionately affects low-income and/or minority communities, policy- and decision-makers in these communities should be particularly mindful of the implications of these recommendations.

All children deserve a chance to live up to their full potential, but exposure to lead can rob children of that opportunity. And unlike many of our country's toughest public health issues, we know how to solve the lead problem. In fact, we have already successfully eliminated some of the sources of lead. Now it's time to finish the job, and ensure that no child is put at risk of lead exposure again.

Hi Jim,

Cayuga provided the following:

1 (b)(6)

Minor was admitted on 7/15/2017. On 7/17/17, the CM tried to reach the sponsor and there was no response. On 7/19/17, the CM provided the minor with a phone call to COO in order to obtain further information on his father's (b)(6) whereabouts. The minor reported that upon entering the U.S. he spoke to his father on the phone and his father expressed that he will be sponsoring the minor. The CM has made several attempts to get a hold of the minor's father; however the CM has not been able to. When minor called his family in COO, a family member provided him with an uncle's (b)(6) phone number who is also in the U.S and asked the minor to call him. The CM has made attempts to contact the minor's uncle as well and has not been able to get in contact with him. On 7/20/2017, the CM was not able to complete the UAC Assessment in the 5th day time frame due to no sponsor information and updates were added to a Case Review. On 7/18/2017-07/24/2017 the CM continued to try and get in contact with the sponsor /father of the minor but was not able to reach him. On 7/24/2017, the CM was contacted by the minor's uncle (b)(6). He reported to the CM that the minor's father was arrested and that he did not know of his whereabouts. The minor's uncle (b)(6) also reported that he is requesting to sponsor the minor. The CM has tried to contact the minor's mother to confirm this information but was not able to reach her. On 7/24/2017, the CM was able to confirm that the minor's father was detained by ICE (Deportation Officer). On 7/25/2017, the CM was able to get in contact with the minors mother (b)(6) in coo to confirm that she is in agreement with her brother sponsoring the minor. The CM is pending letter of designation from the minor's mother. On 7/26/2017 the CM retrieved contact information for the minor's father from ICE but was not able to speak to the minor's father. On 7/27/2017 at 1:45PM, the CM called the phone number provided by Ice Deportation Officer (b)(6);(b)(7)(F). The number provided was the minors fathers direct cell phone number which he does not have access to. The CM reached out to (b)(6);(b) again to inquire about obtaining contact information to where the minor's father is detained. On 7/27/2017 at 1:50PM, the CM called the (b)(6) Prison where the minors father is detained and was informed by Officer (b)(6) that she could not speak with the minors father. The CM then she reached out to (b)(6) again to inquire if he is able to assist

The CM began the process with the minor's maternal uncle (b)(6). However, due to the sponsor/uncle of the minor not being truthful about his criminal background, the sponsor was denied. On 8/11/2017 another uncle of the minor (b)(6) requested to sponsor the minor. The CM contacted the minor's mother in COO and she was in agreement. The minor's mother sent the CM a letter of designation and the new sponsor sent the CM the FRP and all supporting documents. The new sponsor was fingerprinted and cleared. Minor was approved for discharge on 8/31/2017 and is scheduled to reunify with his uncle on 9/2/2017.

2. (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 8/23/2017

UC Minor (b)(6) is a 13 year old male that traveled from (b)(6) (admitted 7/10/17). Initially, UC traveled to reunify with his biological mother (b)(6) in (b)(6) however, 2 days after UC was admitted, biological mother was detained by ICE. Biological mother was able to get in contact with CM once on 7/24/17 and reported that she was in (b)(6) and asked if UC's Paternal Uncle could sponsor minor. Reunification proceeded with Paternal Uncle (b)(6) who resides in (b)(6). Background checks were cleared; fingerprint results came back with a hit for driving without a license and for a domestic dispute; paternal uncle was able to provide court documents and dispositions letters that displayed that cases are closed. CA/N checks were requested and came back clear. Backup sponsor is paternal uncle's partner and all background checks were completed and clear for her. Backup Sponsor (b)(6) (b)(6) is a US permanent resident.

3. (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 08/12/2017

4. (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 08/12/2017

On 06/20/2017, checked UC portal for prior sponsorship and address, nothing found. Cayuga Centers has identified CAT 1 Sponsor for (b)(6) A#(b)(6). UC's mother (b)(6) Sponsor provided birth certificates for self and UC. Back-up sponsor is sponsor's partner, (b)(6) with residence at (b)(6) (b)(6). Sponsor provided birth certificate for self and UC to prove relationship. Sponsor provided BC and ID for back-up caregiver. Sponsor resides in a 3 bedroom trailer with (b)(6). Sponsor and partner own the trailer and paid $(b)(6). Sponsor pays $(b)(6) a month for the use of the lot. UC will share a bedroom with his UC sibling, each will have their own bed. Sponsor does not work. Sponsor's partner is self employed in (b)(6) earning $(b)(6) a week. Background checks, national and state sex offender checks were completed on 06/20/2017 for sponsor and her partner which came back clear. Sponsor will supervise UC at all times as she does not work. Finger prints and CAN checks are currently pending as of 06/22/2017. Sponsor and UC have been separated for (b)(6) years. Finger print results for sponsor and back-up caregiver were received on 06/30/2017 and referred to FFS. FFS sent email stating to proceed. On 07/20/2017, received clear CAN check results for sponsor's partner. On 07/25/17 received clear CAN check results for sponsor.

5. (b)(6) A#(b)(6)
This case was transferred from CC-Houston on 8/15/17

(b)(6) is a 16 year old female from (b)(6) and is currently (b)(6) weeks pregnant. UC reported she lived with maternal grandmother (b)(6). Minor reported she maintained nearly daily phone contact with both parents who lives in the US. Minor reported waking up every day at 6:30am. (b)(6)

(b)(6)

Sponsor reported that ICE officers stopped at his home looking of him. He was informed that information had been obtained because of the documents he had provided for the reunification process in CC-(b)(6). He was detained and taken to an immigration office where he spent 2 weeks. Sponsor reported that he has a court hearing in 2018

Subject: RE: Parents apprehended in the US

Hi Jim

The summary is as follows:

LSSNY:

(b)(6) A#(b)(6)

Summary of Case information received:

- Upon minor's arrival he stated he would like to reunite with his mother, Aunt & Uncle in (b)(6) (with his mother designated as Sponsor).
- The Aunt contacted the ORR hotline and reached out to our staff to report the minor's mother was detained so the minor's Uncle would be the sponsor instead.
- Family reported that minor called his mother when he crossed the border at DHS to let her know he was safe; before his arrival to LSSNY, his mother was detained.
- Family stated that the mother was visited by DHS in her home and asked to come into the office for further questioning; upon her visiting the DHS office she was detained.
- Minor reported he did not provide DHS with his mother's address as he did not know it, but only name and phone number to reach out to her. Family believes mother was detained due to being undocumented.
- Minor, family in home country, and Sponsor denied paying for minor's trip or having any debt.
- It is unclear if the mother paid for the journey or not, but minor reported his mother assisted in planning the trip with the grandmother in home country. Mother was unable to be interviewed due to being detained by DHS.

Also Cayuga sent the following minors. I am still awaiting the summaries for these cases and will send shortly.

Hi Jim,

Cayuga provided the following:

1. (b)(6) A# (b)(6)

Minor was admitted on 7/15/2017. On 7/17/17, the CM tried to reach the sponsor and there was no response. On 7/19/17, the CM provided the minor with a phone call to COO in order to obtain further information on his father's (b)(6) whereabouts. The minor reported that upon entering the U.S. he spoke to his father on the phone and his father expressed that he will be sponsoring the minor. The CM has made several attempts to get a hold of the minor's father; however the CM has not been able to. When minor called his family in COO, a family member provided him with an uncle's (b)(6) phone number who is also in the U.S and asked the minor to call him. The CM has made attempts to contact the minor's uncle as well and has not been able to get in contact with him. On 7/20/2017, the CM was not able to complete the UAC Assessment in the 5th day time frame due to no sponsor information and updates were added to a Case Review. On 7/18/2017-07/24/2017 the CM continued to try and get in contact with the sponsor /father of the minor but was not able to reach him. On 7/24/2017, the CM was contacted by the minor's uncle (b)(6). He reported to the CM that the minor's father was arrested and that he did not know of his whereabouts. The minor's uncle (b)(6) also reported that he is requesting to sponsor the minor. The CM has tried to contact the minor's mother to confirm this information but was not able to reach her. On 7/24/2017, the CM was able to confirm that the minor's father was detained by ICE (Deportation Officer). On 7/25/2017, the CM was able to get in contact with the minors mother (b)(6) in coo to confirm that she is in agreement with her brother sponsoring the minor. The CM is pending letter of designation from the minor's mother. On 7/26/2017 the CM retrieved contact information for the minor's father from ICE but was not able to speak to the minor's father. On 7/27/2017 at 1:45PM, the CM called the phone number provided by Ice Deportation Officer (b)(6). The number provided was the minors fathers direct cell phone number which he does not have access to. The CM reached out to (b)(6) again to inquire about obtaining contact information to where the minor's father is detained. On 7/27/2017 at 1:50PM, the CM called the (b)(6) County Prison where the minors father is detained and was informed by Officer (b)(6) that she could not speak with the minors father. The CM then she reached out to (b)(6) again to inquire if he is able to assist

The CM began the process with the minor's maternal uncle (b)(6). However, due to the sponsor/uncle of the minor not being truthful about his criminal background, the sponsor was denied. On 8/11/2017 another uncle of the minor (b)(6) requested to sponsor the minor. The CM contacted the minor's mother in COO and she was in agreement. The minor's mother sent the CM a letter of designation and the new sponsor sent the CM the FRP and all supporting documents. The new sponsor was fingerprinted and cleared. Minor was approved for discharge on 8/31/2017 and is scheduled to reunify with his uncle on 9/2/2017.

2. (b)(6) A# (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 8/23/2017

UC Minor (b)(6) A# (b)(6) is a 13 year old male that traveled from (b)(6) admitted 7/10/17). Initially, UC traveled to reunify with his biological mother (b)(6) in (b)(6) however, 2 days after UC was admitted, biological mother was detained by ICE. Biological mother was able to get in contact with CM once on 7/24/17 and reported that she was in (b)(6) and asked if UC's Paternal Uncle could sponsor minor. Reunification proceeded with Paternal Uncle (b)(6) who resides in (b)(6). Background checks were cleared; fingerprint results came back with a hit for driving without a license and for a domestic dispute; paternal uncle was able to provide court documents and dispositions letters that displayed that cases are closed. CA/N checks were requested and came back clear. Backup sponsor is paternal uncle's partner and all background checks were completed and clear for her. Backup Sponsor (b)(6) (b)(6) is a US permanent resident.

3. (b)(6) A# (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 08/12/2017

4. (b)(6) A# (b)(6) Minor was discharged on 08/12/2017

On 06/20/2017, checked UC portal for prior sponsorship and address, nothing found. Cayuga Centers has identified CAT 1 Sponsor for (b)(6) A# (b)(6) UC's mother, (b)(6). Sponsor provided birth certificates for self and UC. Back-up sponsor is sponsor's partner, (b)(6) with residence at (b)(6) (b)(6). Sponsor provided birth certificate for self and UC to prove relationship. Sponsor provided BC and ID for back-up caregiver. Sponsor resides in a 3 bedroom

5. (b)(6) A# (b)(6)

This case was transferred from CC-Houston on 8/15/17

(b)(6) is a 16 year old female from (b)(6) and is currently (b)(6) weeks pregnant. UC reported she lived with maternal grandmother (b)(6). Minor reported she maintained nearly daily phone contact with both parents who lives in the US. Minor reported waking up every day at 6:30am. (b)(6)

(b)(6)

Sponsor reported that ICE officers stopped at his home looking of him. He was informed that information had been obtained because of the documents he had provided for the reunification process in CC-(b)(6). He was detained and taken to an immigration office where he spent 2 weeks. Sponsor reported that he has a court hearing in 2018

Hi Jim

The summary is as follows:

LSSNY:

(b)(6) A# (b)(6)

Summary of Case information received:

- Upon minor's arrival he stated he would like to reunite with his mother, Aunt & Uncle in (b)(6) (with his mother designated as Sponsor).
- The Aunt contacted the ORR hotline and reached out to our staff to report the minor's mother was detained so the minor's Uncle would be the sponsor instead.
- Family reported that minor called his mother when he crossed the border at DHS to let her know he was safe; before his arrival to LSSNY, his mother was detained.
- Family stated that the mother was visited by DHS in her home and asked to come into the office for further questioning; upon her visiting the DHS office she was detained.
- Minor reported he did not provide DHS with his mother's address as he did not know it, but only name and phone number to reach out to her. Family believes mother was detained due to being undocumented.
- Minor, family in home country, and Sponsor denied paying for minor's trip or having any debt.
- It is unclear if the mother paid for the journey or not, but minor reported his mother assisted in planning the trip with the grandmother in home country. Mother was unable to be interviewed due to being detained by DHS.

Also Cayuga sent the following minors. I am still awaiting the summaries for these cases and will send shortly.

Cayuga:

Please see list of Parents or sponsors that were already living in the US when apprehended by DHS.

As I mentioned on the phone, the Bethany House of Hospitality, a new youth residential housing program exclusively for young women located in Bartlett, Illinois, has offered (b)(6) a placement there if she can be released from ORR custody. Importance: High

Good Evening,

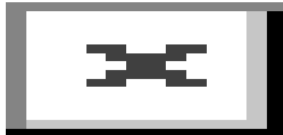

Please be advised that IES LF Shelter has a 17-year-old female UAC (b)(6) from (b)(6) in care (DOE 9/7/17) whom is inquiring about the possibility of terminating pregnancy. On 9/18/17 UAC disclosed to assigned Clinician that she did not wish to continue her pregnancy, she shared she wished to end her pregnancy and return to home country as she has no viable sponsor options. UAC attended initial OB/GYN appointment on (b)(6) at (b)(6) (b)(6) with Dr. (b)(6). An intrauterine pregnancy was confirmed by an OB sonogram. Gestation is +/- (b)(6) weeks. UAC did not share her thoughts with obstetrician during visit.

Please note, (b)(6) (obstetrician) and PCP (b)(6) are not currently aware UAC is seeking to terminate pregnancy, at this time the UAC has only shared this information with her assigned Clinician. In addition, care provider has not reached out to any community medical providers regarding minor's request, no appointment for the procedure/service has been made. This information has been elevated to designated ORR FFS and a Significant Incident Addendum (Event# 106940) has been submitted with regards to UAC's request for above referenced medical service. At this time care provider is reaching out to ORR Medical team in the hopes of obtaining procedural guidance regarding minor's specific request. Please advise on how to proceed with minor's request for this heightened medical service, thank you, we will wait for further guidance.

Good morning Eda,

I hope this message finds you well.

We became aware that minor (b)(6) at IES Los Fresnos needs special counseling regarding family planning, specifically termination of pregnancy.

She will require assistance setting up an appointment with Whole Women's Health located at 802 S. Main St., McAllen, TX 78501. They may be reached at (b)(6). The appointment needs to be set up as soon as possible due to time sensitivities. Jane's Due Process, an organization ensuring legal representation for pregnant minors in the state of Texas, will be covering the expense of the consultation. Please provide the date of the appointment and time so that I may forward to the Jane's Due Process attorney.

Please let me know how I may be of assistance.

Hello FFS,

HHS has identified a set of providers close to each shelter program that is approved to provide counseling to UAC requesting information on pregnancy termination. Senior Management has instructed us to have programs use these providers. A second email regarding counseling for options will follow after this.

Provide these list of counseling providers to the care providers in your area. If you have any questions please discuss with your supervisor.

Good Afternoon Dr. Bartholomew, thank you for your prompt guidance.

We will proceed as directed and ensure to keep ORR up-to-date. Please note, at this time UAC continues to voice she does not wish to disclose pregnancy to her parents whom reside in home country (b)(6). To our knowledge and according to UAC she has no "next of kin" residing in the U.S. Potential sponsor and minor's POC in U.S. was an unverified "aunt" who declined to sponsor, there has been no further contact between care provider and this individual. Assigned Clinician will continue working closely with UAC with the hope that she will reconsider, at this point are there any other actions care provider must take due to the UAC being unwilling to proceed with parental notification?? We will be sure to inform ORR once appointment is secured, thank you.

Fanny

Per ORR Director:

Yes, this is correct-- the program should notify regardless of UAC's wishes.

The reason is that we do not want the program standing in between the parents and their daughter at this critical time, to the extent we can avoid it.

Thank you for attention on this matter.

Mr. Calero,

SWK is requesting further clarification on this case. We have read your email below and discussed it, but we are still in need of more information from you (ORR).

If the minor does not want SWK to disclose to the parents the pregnancy, is SWK being required to do so anyway? Your email says we should offer to disclose to the parents for her which we can easily do. But, your email is unclear as to the next step in the event the minor does not want SWK to disclose this information to the parents.

We want to make sure that we are clear on the directive from the ORR Director as it is important to us that we follow the directive precisely as intended. Please advise- we will wait to hear from you before we take the next step.

Ms. Rivera,

I have been advised by my supervisor, Ivonne Velasquez, to forward a directive from the ORR Director. Per the ORR Director, the next step is for the program to inform the parents of the pregnancy in the above referenced case. If the UAC doesn't want to do it, the program should offer to do it. The parents should be notified by the end of the day barring some exigent circumstance.

Per the Director please advise ORR once the program has completed the notification requested.
